ARMISTICE SIGNED; GREECE MAY CONTINUE HOSTILITIES

Abstention May Mean Serious Split in League; France Is Working to Induce Greeks to Sign Peace

LONDON, Dec. 4. The protocol arranging an armistice was signed late this evening by the Turkish and Bulgarian delegates, the latter representing also Serbia and Montenegro. Prior to this there had been a long sitting of the Turkish council of ministers to consider fresh proposals submitted by the allies.

Apparently the Greek delegate did not sign the protocol. At present nothing is known definitely on this point or of the terms of the armistice as revised today.

The refusal of Greece to sign the armistice is susceptible of different interpretations. In the first place as a tacit armistice has been in existence more than a week, it is not impossible that the negotiations may have served to bring about an agreement on the general principles of the peace terms, such as would promise the speedy arrangement of a peace treaty when the conference meets, as is now expected, in London. In this case the fact that Greece is standing out from the peace protocol, would not be of great importance.

In the second place, the Greek abstention may mean a serious split among the allies, arising from jealousies concerning the possession of Saloniki and the insistence of the Greeks on the capitulation of Adrianople, Scutari and Janina.

Turkey Wants in League. Other factors that may influence the situation are to be found in the fact that Turkey recently sought to conclude a separate treaty of peace with Greece that Bulgaria apparently is not unwilling to enter into an alliance with Turkey, and that the allies are anxious that Turkey shall enter the Balkan customs league.

There is a rumor in Sofia that a suggestion has been made to substitute Roumania for Greece in the Balkan league. It seems clear from the report that Bulgaria will ignore the Greek offer to land an army in Gallipoli peninsula and to send her fleet to attack the Dardanelles; that the relations between Greece and Bulgaria are strained, and those of Bulgaria with the allies leave the situation full of dangerous possibilities.

It is reported that France is trying to persuade Greece to adopt a less unyielding attitude. It is understood

MOD LAW IS UPHELD BY OFFICIAL

South Carolina Executive Is Strongly in Favor of Drastic Measures

COLORADO PLAN SUGGESTED

Remedial Legislation Proposed for Dealing With Crimes of Various Types

RICHMOND, Va. Dec. 3.—In the name of the state of South Carolina, Governor Bleasie served notice to the governors' conference here today that lynchers of negro assailants of white women in his state would go unpunished.

Governor Bleasie warmly defended his use of pardoning power as well as declaring that in 22 months he had pardoned or paroled approximately 400 persons and that he hoped the number at the end of the second term would be 800.

"I have said all over South Carolina, and I say it again now," he declared, "that I will never order out the militia to shoot down their neighbors and protect a black brute who commits a nameless crime."

Therefore, in South Carolina let it be understood that when a negro assaults a white woman, all that is needed is that they get the right man and they who get him will neither need nor receive a trial.

Justifies Use of Pardon. Governor Bleasie justified the use he had made of his pardoning power he said by conditions he had found in personal institutions in the state.

"I walked through the penitentiary of South Carolina," he said, "and found it a tuberculosis incubator where poor devils were dying at their tasks, making money for other people, poor devils who had no choice but to stand and work or take the lash. Just the other day, Jim Roberts, a negro from Charleston, stopped me as I was walking through and respectfully asked permission to speak to me. He told me that he had been kept in jail 22 years for stealing a $27 watch."

"I said, 'If you are telling me the truth, you will eat your Christmas dinner with your folks at home.' He said, 'Governor, I have no folks.' Then I replied, 'You will eat it away from here.' And he will. Another negro had served 11 years and seven months for stealing $3; a judge wrote to me that he had sentenced to death a man when he did not believe

Brother of Local Physician Refuses Million for Serum

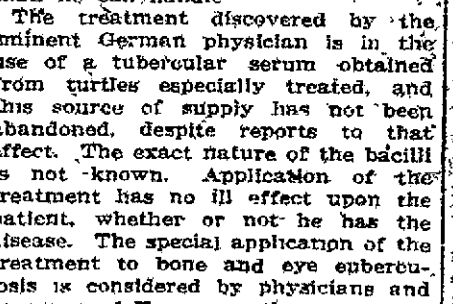

One million dollars for the American rights of manufacture and sale of the serum used in the cure of tuberculosis, discovered recently by Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann of Berlin, brother of Dr. Arthur C. H. Friedmann of this city, has been offered and refused, according to the latter, who has recently returned from a visit with his brother in Berlin, where the experiments have been carried on.

"My brother has not announced whether or not he will place the serum on the market or whether he will sell the rights at all," said Dr. Friedmann last night. "Hundreds of patients in German hospitals, who have undergone treatment for tuberculosis of lungs, bones or any tissues are recovering, attesting to the success of the discovery. If the serum were not a success, the cures could not have been obtained, and at present he has a practice that is a great deal larger than he can handle."

The treatment discovered by the eminent German physician and the use of a tubercular serum obtained from turtles especially treated, and this source of supply has not been abandoned, despite reports to that effect. The exact nature of the bacilli is not known. Application of the treatment has no ill effect upon the patient, whether or not he has the disease. The special application of the treatment to bone and eye tuberculosis is considered by physicians and surgeons of Europe as the most wonderful medical discovery of the modern medical world.

"My brother has not completed his work in investigating the limits of the application of the serum and is still experimenting to make it a more perfect boon to humanity," said the Springs physician. "The matter of making new born children immune from attacks of tubercular infection is not definite as yet. The effect of the serum cannot be learned for a number of years after it has been injected into the tissues, and there is no just scientific basis for claiming a positive cure at this time."

Dr. Friedmann believes that his brother will carry his experiment to as near a state of perfection as possible before he comes to this country. When he does make the trip he will pay his brother in Colorado Springs an extended visit.

HOWARD ROBINSON

from a six months residence on Pike's Peak. Robinson returned here yesterday from an eastern trip and submitted to experiments on his blood and respiration, similar to those performed three weeks ago. Much to the surprise of those interested in the work, the change was scarcely noticeable. An increase in red corpuscles in the blood to carry more oxygen through the system is always in high altitudes, as is a decrease in the carbon dioxide exhaled, but figures from the last test upon Robinson's circulation and respiration and the tests taken yesterday differed but slightly. It is believed that Robinson's system, being so accustomed to the high altitude, will not change for some time in the respects that are being studied.

Robinson expects to leave in a few days for the east where he will spend the winter and upon his return in the spring additional tests will be made. The importance of the tests is indicated by the interest shown by the medical fraternity all over the west.

MINE OPERATORS BLACKLISTED MEN

REPORT MADE ON WEST VIRGINIA FIELDS

Both Sides Are Condemned by Commission Appointed by Governor

CHARLESTON, W. Va. Dec. 3.—The commission appointed by Governor Glasscock to investigate conditions in the mine strike here today made its report tonight. It charges both the coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America with charges of violence and lawlessness.

The miners are charged with an effort to insert a "wild" wage in unionism in the district.

The commission was headed by Bishop J. B. Donahue of Wheeling. The report states that the conditions that led up to the martial law proclamation, that in the opinion of expert witnesses on the martial law was the only measure to meet a desperate situation.

The commission recommends that greater power be given the governor to remove peace officers who fail to enforce the law, that he be authorized to appoint special police to prohibit the employment of private guards and advocates a workmen's compensation law.

Operators Within Right. The commission finds that the operators are within their rights in declining to recognize the union which would place them in a helpless minority when joined to those of the four competitive states of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

The miners have the right to organize and with the West Virginia operators agree upon a scale. It is stipulated that the organization enforce terms of contract, punish parties violating the contract and fix some standard of membership to raise efficiency.

The commission found that the miners in the West Virginia strike territory averaged between $600 and $700 annually, while the entire strike for the years 1905-11 inclusive averaged a little more than $554. The state of Illinois, a unionized state, was given at $510, while Ohio and western Pennsylvania is said to be below Illinois.

It also finds that a blacklisting system existed at some places and that excessive prices were charged for foodstuffs.

For the first time in its history says the president the state department has obtained substantially the most favored nation treatment from all of the countries of the world. Therefore, he says that it is only natural that competitive countries should view with some concern the expansion of our commerce. Hence the warning.

In some instances the measures taken by the government should be found to this end and the president strongly recommends the enactment of the bill recommended by Secretary Knox last December permitting the government instead of imposing the full maximum rate of duty against discriminating countries to apply a graduated scale of duties, up to that maximum of 25 per cent.

Flat Tariffs Out of Date. "Flat tariffs are out of date," says the president. "Nations no longer accept tariff treatment from all other nations irrespective of the treatment from them received."

It is very necessary that the American government should be equipped with weapons of negotiation and adapted to modern economic conditions.

The state department, an archaic and inadequate machine at the beginning of this administration, the president says, has become a new organization, with highly specialized bureaus and experts dealing with every phase of American trade and diplomacy. The organization is found in the merit system which President Cleveland is credited with having introduced. President Taft makes a strong appeal to congress to make this machine permanent by giving the force of statutory law to the executive orders governing admission to and promotion in the diplomatic and consular service.

TAFT SUBMITS MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

Upholds Foreign Policy of U. S. and European Powers Given Warning

DIPLOMACY IS VINDICATED

First Communication to Short Session; Others Will Follow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. A note of warning to European powers which, by indirect means, continue to discriminate against American trade, a strong appeal to the congress to uplift the great foreign policy of America above mere questions of partisanship, a triumphant vindication of the diplomacy of the administration which is characterized as that of "dollars versus bullets," a masterful pride in the enormous expansion of American trade as a result of the foreign policies of his administration and an earnest appeal for joint action by congress and the executive to open new markets for American industries—these are the more striking features of President Taft's fourth annual message sent to congress today.

The message is the first of a series of such communications which he will make to congress in the early days of the session and deals entirely with the foreign relations of the United States. Beginning with the usual reference to the existing good relations with foreign powers, the president adds that these have been strengthened by a greater confidence upon justice to American citizens or interests wherever it may have been denied, and a stronger emphasis of the need of neutrality in commercial and other relations.

For the first time in its history says the president the state department has obtained substantially the most favored nation treatment from all of the countries of the world. Therefore, he says that it is only natural that competitive countries should view with some concern the expansion of our commerce. Hence the warning.

RYAN SEVERELY GRILLED IN CROSS EXAMINATION

Extracts of Incriminating Letters Are Read to Jury by Prosecutor

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 3. Testimony written by Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was read in connection with the trial of Ryan in the cross examination of Ryan by the government at the dynamite conspiracy trial today.

Ryan testified that his knowledge of numerous explosions which had occurred after he had written a letter from New York was gained entirely through newspaper accounts. He said newspaper accounts of explosions on nonunion jobs often were omitted in letters as news.

Extracts from the New York letter which Ryan testified he wrote on April 25, 1910 as head of the union, to Secretary John J. McNamara and the explosions which the government cited as having occurred later, read. Let Leggett and Harkin take care of these jobs," asked District Attorney Miller.

I meant for them to use every legitimate means to have union men put to work," answered Ryan.

Let Harkin arrange for Cleveland, Cincinnati and Detroit jobs. Herbert S. Harkin is charged with being leader of the dynamiting crew. An explosion occurred at Cleveland June 2, that year.

Davenport and Peoria can be handled by Harkin. Explosions occurred at Davenport and Peoria on June 4.

What did you mean when you said Let Leggett and Harkin take care of these jobs?" asked District Attorney Miller.

WORK OBTAINED FOR 210 MEN AND 64 WOMEN

Although there was a slight scarcity of positions since November 15, the local state free employment bureau, in charge of Superintendent W. C. Daily, reports having secured positions for 210 men during the last month. Positions were secured for 64 women during that time.

Although the bureau supplied positions for many men during the last few months, most of the positions have been filled for the winter, especially those demanding common labor. Mechanics will not find it so difficult to secure positions, although the outlook at this time is not the brightest. This winter is no different from any other we have experienced, however, said Superintendent Daily.

MEXICAN RAILWAY IS CUT BY REBELS

Interrupts Traffic Between Inland and Border Points

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 3.—Rebels under Gen. Pascual Orozco, Jr., today cut the Mexican Central railway below Villa Ahumada, about midway between Juarez and the city of Chihuahua. This not only will postpone all further traffic on the federal-owned line, below the border, but will prevent the arrival at Juarez of the armored train which has been making a circuit of the railways between the state capital and the border, in an effort to keep open the lines.

Two passenger trains are stranded as a result of today's bridge burning, by Orozco's men. So far, the rebels have burned no bridges on the Mexican Northwestern railway, consistent with General Salazar's announcement that the American-owned line would not be destroyed unless necessary. There is a small federal garrison at Villa Ahumada, but it has been occupied by the rebels under Gen. Marcelino Carrasco. It is believed that Orozco and Carrasco have formed a junction, which will form a force of some 700 men.

Gen. Inez Salazar, with about 400 rebels, remains awaiting with federal defending American.

Entrance of Orozco's force, in the district below Juarez comes as a surprise to federal officials, who had insisted that he was hiding in the United States, and also increases the motive to the small forces of government troops scattered through the district below the border at this point. The armored train, with 500 men of the Fifteenth battalion and the ship's cannon, is believed to be stranded between burned bridges below Villa Ahumada, and practically useless, as it carries only infantry and artillery.

with the dynamite for the explosion. Ryan asserted he gave no instructions to Hookin about dynamite.

How soon after an explosion on a bridge in Cincinnati in May 1909, did Ryan call you a day?" Ryan asked.

"Possibly a few days, but he gave me no details about an explosion."

Did Not Urge Violence.
Asserting that he had no intention that violence should be used, Ryan said, through a request from W. Bert Hookin, a union business agent, he sent Hookin to Kansas City, prior to an explosion on a bridge there in August, 1910.

In explaining a letter to Michael J. Cushman, business agent at Philadelphia, giving instructions to handle a demolition job "in any way that will delay or add to the cost of it," Ryan said his only purpose was to have union men taken off of other jobs.

The government read a letter written from Hookin to Ryan in May 1910, by Philip A. Cooley, New Orleans, who is charged with having urged that explosions take place in the south. "I agree with you to postpone the proposition so I can get some pointers from your end there will be no after-effects."

Severely Grilled.
Asked what was meant when Frank C. Webb, New York, wrote him: "You may never fear for I don't believe in talking too much in cases of this kind," Ryan said it referred to arrangements for unionizing jobs in New York.

Ryan admitted he had acknowledged the receipt of a newspaper clipping from John Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America, about an explosion on a bridge at Fall River, Mass., in 1908 and had replied he "read the clipping with interest."

He said the Iron Workers' union furnished $10,000 bond for George O'Brien, who was accused of the dynamiting, and that the union also paid O'Donnell money after he had been convicted. "We sent him about $1,000, because we considered he was being persecuted," said Ryan.

"Did you ever make an investigation of the Los Angeles Times explosion in which 21 persons were murdered?" asked Mr. Miller.

"Yes, I tried to find out how it happened."

"And yet you rejected J. J. McNamara as secretary of the union after he was arrested?"

"Yes."

"And you had Hookin as secretary until yesterday?"

"Yes."

Mr. Ryan's cross-examination will be resumed tomorrow.

XMAS KETTLE BOILING

Harbingers of the Christmas holidays, the Salvation army kettles were seen on the street corners yesterday for the first time this year. The local branch of that organization is planning on giving a much more extensive Christmas dinner, offering the year's ever before, and is asking for contributions for the work by means of the kettles on the streets.

More than 150 Christmas dinners will be distributed this year. In addition to clothing and gifts for the children, a Christmas tree celebration will be given Christmas eve in the rooms of the organization at 13 1/2 South Cascade avenue.

MOB LAW

the man had been convicted beyond a reasonable doubt. Another wrote me that he had sentenced to death a man whom he did not believe should be put to death. He did not believe it at the time, nor does he believe it now."

Favors Whipping Post.

"These are the errors or injustices I am trying to right with my power."

of pardon. I am proud of my record."

Flogging, in some cases, for children, and the whipping post for violators of certain laws, were advocated by Governor Baldwin of Connecticut in an address delivered this afternoon before the governors' conference here.

In his speech, Governor Baldwin declared that he was more in sympathy with the "classical school of penology" than the "new or modern one, mainly made up of sentimental humanitarians or theoretical psychologists."

The former school, he said, maintains that criminals should ordinarily be punished by subjection to some form of suffering; the other that they should ordinarily not be made to suffer for their misdeeds except as nature forces it upon them through the mind, but that their treatment by the state should be aimed primarily at their moral improvement.

Terror to Southern Women.
"There are crimes of which one seldom speaks," Governor Baldwin continued. "Its very name has come to be banished from our newspapers. Yet the thought of it is a daily terror to every woman in the south and a sense of uneasiness and constant constraint into the life of her northern sisters. It is the cause of most of those lynchings which disgraced our civilization. It is to be kept down only by the severest methods."

"Is it too much to say if the courts are not ready to apply these, the people will? The people who may this bring some ruffian to his death will not be the best people in the community. They may occasionally seize the wrong man. But has a conviction ever yet been had in the United States of any one of a mob of lynchers for hanging a negro accused of this unmentionable crime?"

That crime does a wrong to a woman which many of them have deemed worse than death. Such a man is no fit subject for an indeterminate sentence. He has proved his inherent weakness of will power. In every clear case, in my judgment, there should be a summary remedy."

Governor Baldwin's address followed an address by Governor Shafroth of Colorado, in which Governor Shafroth advocated lenient but certain punishment to criminals and cited his own state as an example where this system had worked well.

Governor Shafroth declared that severe punishment had proved no deterrent to crime. Certainly of punishment, in his opinion, with an opportunity to shorten the sentence through labor and good behavior, not only punished the criminal, but served alike a deterrent against future crimes and as incentive to reform.

He advocated the system in vogue in Colorado, under which gangs of 50 men worked without guards, save at night, on the public roads and expressed the hope that the time was near when the state could do more than this and pay the convict a nominal wage for the work he performed.

Arkansas Governor Favors Death.
Governor Donaghey of Arkansas, declared for a severe penalty for lynchings. No punishment save death, he said, would deter murderers from their crime.

Every court of appeals should be abolished, in the opinion of Governor Eberhart of Minnesota. The jury system, he thought, was responsible for the frequent miscarriage of justice.

Nowadays, he said, a man could plead guilty to many varieties of insanity and escape the consequences of a crime. Under the present jury system he added, it was all but impossible to select intelligent men for jury service.

HURT BY MOTORCYCLE

Mrs. C. A. Eldridge, 15 East Williams avenue, a prominent clubwoman, is recovering from injuries sustained last Saturday afternoon, when she was struck by a motorcycle.

The accident occurred at the northwest corner of Tejon and Bijou streets. Her injuries consisted of severe bruises, but she was able to walk to an automobile that conveyed her home.

The motorcycle stopped his machine after the frequent miscarriage of justice. Nowadays, he said, a man could plead guilty to many varieties of insanity and escape the consequences of a crime. Under the present jury system he added, it was all but impossible to select intelligent men for jury service.

Feminine Duel Is Sequel to Slander at Wedding Feast

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Dec. 3.—Elizabeth Lang, a bride of one day, tonight shot and killed Mrs. Mary Copple, who, at the wedding supper last night, is alleged to have told other guests that the groom had selected an ugly and worthless woman for a life partner.

Mrs. Lang was arrested shortly after the shooting and the police say she made a full confession and expressed pleasure that she had stopped slanderous remarks as reported by the police, Mrs. Lang said:

"Yes, I shot Mrs. Copple. I shot her down as her two little children stood beside her, holding to her skirts. I killed her because she said no man ought to marry me, and that my husband would repent."

"She said I was ugly. She said I was old. I killed her for that and I am not a bit sorry for it. She was jealous of me and would have made my life unhappy."

The shooting followed a conference of Mrs. Lang with a woman friend, also a wedding guest, who had reported the slanderous remarks of Mrs. Copple. Mrs. Lang went to the home of her father, told him the story and then telephoned for the police.

TREASURER OF ROYAL ARCANUM DIES IN FLA.

WESTFIELD, N. Y., Dec. 3.—News has been received here tonight of the death at St. Petersburg, Fla., of Edward A. Skinner of Westfield, for the last 30 years supreme treasurer of the royal Arcanum.

Since bread is the staff of life, and read to the Americans means wheat, it is perhaps not surprising that we consumed approximately 567,000,000 bushels of wheat last year.

NO PLAN YET MADE FOR MERGER SPLIT

Meeting of Railway Directors Held to Consider Supreme Court Ruling

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Not even a tentative plan to dissolve the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads in conformity with the supreme court's dissolution order, was evolved at a protracted meeting of the Union Pacific executive committee today, according to Chairman Lovett of the Harriman lines.

Banking interests in the Harriman properties, as represented by President Vanderlip of the National City bank and Mortimer L. Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. attended the meeting. Harriman declined to enter into any public discussion of the court's decree, except to say that the mandate would be carried out within the time prescribed.

It is taken for granted that the conference devoted much of their time to take part of the supreme court's decision wherein it is intimated that Union Pacific might so readjust its affairs as to retain control of Central Pacific. It is realized that such a plan is sure to meet with strong opposition on the part of the independent Southern Pacific shareholders.

S. P. Stockholders Busy.

Steps in behalf of Southern Pacific stockholders were taken today, when, according to announcement, a committee consisting of James L. Wallace, chairman, Henry Faxon, secretary, and Frederick Strauss and Albert Wiggins was formed to protect the interests of the stock of the Southern Pacific company in the hands of the public.

This committee, it was stated, will "make further public announcement" to the stockholders.

A phase of the situation to which the high officials of the Harriman system are giving consideration is the increased cost of administration, which even a technical dissolution of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific will involve. Ever since Harriman interests became dominant in Southern Pacific, the two lines virtually have been managed as one property, with much the same set of officials down to the minor grades. Enforcement of the supreme court's order, in the opinion of impartial outsiders, will call for separate and distinct working forces from the highest salaried officers down to the most obscure subordinates.

Today's stock market was largely governed by the merger decision. Wall street seemed unable to arrive at any definite conception of the importance of the decree. In a general way, the financial community was disposed to believe that in its broader aspects the decision is not without bearing upon other corporations, industrial as well as railroads.

LOS ANGELES REFUSES TO ADOPT HOME RULE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3.—Early returns from today's election indicate that the proposed new charter providing a commission form of government for the city of Los Angeles, was defeated by a vote of two to one or more. In the first hundred precincts to report, not one cast a majority in favor of the charter.

The anti-free lunch ordinance, designed to banish the "feed counter" from saloons, has been defeated by a heavy vote.

The proposed charter defeated today provided for but eight elective offices—mayor and seven commissioners. These officials would have had the appointment under the service regulations of about 8,000 salaried municipal employees. In addition, the charter granted the city broad powers, including the right to engage in any enterprise, either of public utility or purely commercial.

Incomplete returns indicate that the harbor zone voted "wet" by a majority of about 150.

ROAD BUILDERS FAVOR NATIONAL HIGHWAY PLAN

CINCINNATI, Dec. 3.—A discussion of the organization of a national highway department consumed the greater part of the session of the annual convention of the American Road Builders' association here today.

J. Depuilly, a member of the board of public works of Paris, France, compared American and French methods of road building, stating that the methods are similar.

E. J. McPherson, of Saskatchewan, Canada, discussed Canadian road building, and F. W. Spaulding of Wyoming, also spoke.

In 1907 the average outlay for food per each American family was $367, while 10 years before it was a trifle less than $300. At the present time this figure has reached $410.

SNEED ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Verdict Was Reached on Second Ballot; Near Decision on First Vote

FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 3.—It was learned tonight that the verdict of acquittal returned today by the jury which heard the trial of John Neal Sneed, accused of murder in connection with the killing in 1907 of Al G. Boyce, Sr., reached a verdict on the second ballot. On the first ballot it is said that all jurors voted for acquittal and one for conviction.

The demonstration by Sneed and his attorneys over the verdict was spectacular. "Walter Scott and W. P. McLean, Jr., defense lawyers were fined for throwing their hats over the chandeliers in the court room. Sneed refused to endorse him or to fine him."

Mrs. Sneed awaited the verdict in a downtown hotel. Sneed telephoned the news to her. Sneed shot Captain Boyce to death on January 15 in Fort Worth, soon after Sneed had returned from Winnipeg, Can., with his wife, with whom Al G. Boyce, Jr., son of Captain Boyce, had eloped. Sneed claimed self-defense and also a conspiracy on the part of the Boyces to rob him or his wife. Al Boyce, Jr., was killed by Sneed in Amarillo, September 14, last. Sneed will be tried on this charge in February at Vernon.

The families involved in the two tragedies were wealthy and have been prominent parts in the archduke in Texas. After the elopement Sneed spent $20,000 in a chase across the continent to find his wife.

Sneed's first trial on the charge of killing Captain Boyce resulted in a disagreement.

Sneed's relatives denied today that Mrs. Sneed had been closely guarded in her hotel here.

"She has been free to come and go as she wished," they said. "She is happy over the verdict and she loves her husband and her children."

LAS ANIMAS YOUTH COMMITS SUICIDE

LAS ANIMAS, Dec. 3.—Donald Leedham, 22, son of Dr. and Mrs. Leedham, in a sudden fit of despondency tonight drew a bullet into his chest, and died without regaining consciousness.

Young Leedham, an accomplished musician, was an ardent sportsman and was around town early in the evening with a number of his friends and seemed in a cheerful mood.

From a downtown store he telephoned to a young lady asking her to go to the theater with him, but instead of going to her house, he rushed to his own home and shot himself. His mother was in the house and a physician was immediately called, but was found that young Leedham was beyond hope. Dr. Leedham is well known here. Dr. Leedham being a practicing physician with an extensive acquaintance and a high reputation as a surgeon.

Close friends of young Leedham say that he has often threatened to kill himself.

ARMISTICE SIGNED

from the north. At the conclusion of this conference, the armistice protocol was signed.

The fact that Greece is not among the signatories is interpreted as meaning that hostilities will be continued between that state and Turkey, and there is considerable speculation as to what will become of the alliance agreement between the Balkan states.

It has not been determined when and where the peace negotiations will begin.

Dissension Becomes Serious.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—A Vienna dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says that official quarters there have received word that the dissensions between the Greeks and Bulgarians have become serious and that 250 Greeks were killed when 2,000 of their troops attempted forcibly to occupy the town of Serres, which was already occupied by Bulgarians.

Servia Conciliatory.

BELGRADE, Dec. 3.—The government organ, Pravda, prints a conciliatory article denying that Servia insists upon a section through Albanian territory to an Adriatic port. It concludes:

"Although convinced that Europe's decision to grant Albania autonomy is contrary to Servian interests, Servia, though trusting in the powers' good will, expects from them the same consideration that they extended Austria-Hungary with respect to Bosnia and Herzegovina at the time of the Berlin treaty. Servia is willing to accept the powers' decision or refer the question to The Hague."

GIRL PUTS ROBBER TO FIGHT WITH CANE

DIRECT PRIMARY LAW CARRIED IN MONTANA

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 3.—Canvas of the vote on the initiated measures voted upon in the November election shows that the proposal for a direct primary law was adopted by a majority of 33,588, and that for the direct election of United States senators, was given a majority of 33,178.

The vote on a proposal for a preferential vote on presidential and vice presidential candidates stood 48,241 for and 12,147 against.

IMPEACHMENT

The testimony of witnesses as to Judge Archibald's connection with the case of attempted purchase of certain refuse coal dumps.

House Prosecutors Named.

The charge against Judge Archibald arose in connection with private and official acts both as a judge of the court of commerce and as United States district judge for middle Pennsylvania. He was impeached by the house of representatives after a full investigation of the facts by the department of justice and extended hearings before the house judiciary committee.

The managers appointed to the house to prosecute the case before the senate asked for an adjournment until August, but the senate declined to hasten its consideration of the case.

JUDGE ROBERT W. ARCHIBALD, Of the Commerce Court, Who Is Being Tried for Impeachment.

During the last week scores of subpoenas were issued for witnesses who will be brought before the senate by the house managers and by Judge Archibald's attorneys in connection with the trial.

After the house committee on judiciary had concluded its hearings last spring it recommended that Judge Archibald be called before the senate under impeachment proceedings. The last time the house had exercised its impeachment power was in 1904 when Judge Thomas, United States judge for the northern district of Florida, was called to account for misconduct and was acquitted by the senate.

The house of representatives on July 11, 1912 adopted articles of impeachment by a vote of 222 to 1 and a committee, headed by Representative Clayton of Alabama, was chosen to act as the managers on the part of the house to try the case before the senate.

The house managers urged the senate to grant an immediate trial but that body declined to hear the case before the end of the last session.

Sweeping Indictment.

Thirteen separate articles constitute the basis for the impeachment trial. These embrace dealings between Judge Archibald and railroad officials and others in regard to Pennsylvania coal or "culm" dumps and coal lands; contributions by attorneys and others to the judge's vacation trip to Europe in 1910; reputed "secret" correspondence by the judge with a railroad attorney concerning a pending case; and alleged attempts to have notes payable to Judge Archibald discounted by a bank.

SKIN TROUBLE IN SPOTS OVER ARMS

Scatched, Then It Burned. Itched So Could Not Get Much Rest. Used Cuticura Remedies. In One Month Was Entirely Cured.

Kallouts, Wash.—"My trouble commenced by itching in the joint of the elbow, caused by pimples. I scratched, then it burned. When I got warm, it was worse. It was in spots all over my arms. It was in spots and itched so bad that I could not get much rest at all. I used everything I could think of, but got no relief till I found Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment."

"I washed my arms with Cuticura Soap twice a day, and then applied the Cuticura Ointment on a piece of cloth and put it on my arms and that gave me relief right away from that time. I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Resolvent and in one month I was entirely cured. I have never been troubled since. It cured me and it will cure others. I also use Cuticura Ointment on my baby's head for the hair and recommend it for more than 10 years."

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR INDIGESTION BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION

Better Than Castor Oil, Calomel or Cathartics to Cleanse Your Stomach, Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels—Harmless Laxative for Men, Women and Children

Primitive folks and not used laxatives. They lived outdoors and plenty of fruit, and out of their food was coarse. We modern people are different. We exercise too little, eat too little fruit and our food is too fine for the bowels. We are clogged up, over-choked with sour bile and stomach full of putrid matter and feel wretched. It means that the food and waste remain in the stomach and thirty feet of bowels ferment and decay. The decay creates poisons, gases and acids, and these poisons are sucked into the blood through the very doors intended to suck in the nutriment. Then we have sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, tongue coated, nervous, irritable, don't digest, and we feel miserable all over. So we must make our bowels move. We must use the primitive folk's remedy.

We must take artificial means to move the excess bile and waste matter out of our system. The safest, most harmless and effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator for men, women and children is delicious Syrup of Figs, which doesn't irritate, grip or weaken. Its effect is the effect of fruits. It is composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatic. Don't think you're dragging yourself. Syrup of Figs can be habitually used without harm.

Ask your druggist for Syrup of Figs and Clark's of Sonoma, and see for the time that it is prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company. This is the only genuine, the old reliable, the only one containing the so-called "Syrup" ingredients sometimes of bad quality to be sure.

Adv.

James Archibald undertakes for a consideration to assist George M. Watson, an attorney at Scranton, Pa., to settle a claim on a company against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad company, and to sell for C. G. Boland and W. F. Boland a large portion of the stock of the Marion Coal company in the railroad. In his and Watson's matter merely as a friend of Watson and C. G. Boland without ever having received a suggestion of compensation.

In his answer Judge Archibald denied that he had acted corruptly, or had taken any charge of his position. His attorneys took the position that it was not a crime for a federal judge to be so interested in an attempt to purchase property from one who was or might become a witness before his court. They declared that no attempt was made to get the property for less than its fair value.

WORK OBTAINED FOR 210 MEN AND 64 WOMEN

Although there was a slight scarcity of positions since November 15, the local state free employment bureau, in charge of Superintendent W. C. Daily, reports having secured positions for 210 men during the last month. Positions were secured for 64 women during that time.

"Although we have supplied positions for many men during the last few months, most of the positions have been filled for the winter, especially those demanding common labor. Mechanics will not find it so difficult to secure positions, although the outlook at this time is not the brightest. This winter is no different from any other we have experienced, however," said Superintendent Daily.

MEXICAN RAILWAY IS CUT BY REBELS

Interrupts Traffic Between Inland and Border Points

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 3.—Rebels under Gen. Pascual Orozco, Jr., today cut the Mexican Central railway below Villa Ahumada, about midway between Juarez and the city of Chihuahua. This not only will postpone all further traffic on the federal-owned line below the border, but will prevent the arrival at Juarez of the armored troop train which has been making a point of the railways between the state capital and the border, in an effort to keep open the line.

Two passenger trains are stranded as a result of today's bridge burning by Orozco's men. So far, the rebels have burned no bridges on the Mexico, North-eastern railway, consistent with General Salazar's announcement that the American-owned line would not be destroyed unless necessary. There is a small federal garrison at Villa Ahumada, but it has been occupied by the rebels under Gen. Marcelino Carrasco. It is believed that Orozco and Carrasco have formed a junction, which will form a force of some 700 men.

Gen. Iñez Salazar, with about 400 rebels, remains sparring with federal defending Ascension. Entrance of Orozco's force in the district below Juarez comes as a surprise to federal officials, who had insisted that he was hiding in the United States, and also increases the menace to the small forces of government troops scattered through the district below the border at this point. The armored troop train, with 500 men of the Fifteenth battalion and the ship's cannon, is believed to be stranded between burned bridges below Villa Ahumada, and practically useless, as it carries only infantry and artillery.

with the dynamite for the explosion. Ryan asserted he gave no instructions to Hookin about dynamite.

"How soon after an explosion on a bridge in Cincinnati in May, 1908, did 'dark call you up?' Ryan was asked. 'Possibly a few days, but he gave me no details about an explosion.'"

Did Not Urge Violence.

Asserting that he had no intention that violence should be used, Ryan said, through a request from W. Bert Brown, a union business agent, in St. Louis, Mo., prior to an explosion on a bridge there in August, 1910.

In explaining a letter to Michael J. Connolly, business agent in Philadelphia, giving instructions to handle a nonunion job in any way that will delay or add to the cost of it, Ryan said his only purpose was to have union men taken off other jobs in construction by the same contractor. The government read a letter written from Dallas in 1910 to McNamara by Philip A. Cooley, St. Louis, Mo., who is charged with having urged that explosions take place in the south. "I agree with you to postpone the proposition so I can get some pointers from you and there will be no after effects."

Severely Grilled.

Asked what he meant when Frank C. Webb, New York, wrote him: "You may never fear for I don't believe in talking too much in cases of this kind," Ryan said it only referred to arrangements for unionizing jobs in New York.

Ryan admitted he had acknowledged the receipt of a newspaper clipping from John Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America, about an explosion of a bridge at Fall River, Mass., in 1908 and had replied he "read the clipping with interest."

He said the Iron Workers' union furnished $10,000 bond for George O'Donnell, who was accused of the dynamiting and that the union also paid O'Donnell money after he had been convicted. "We sent him about $1,000, because we considered he was being persecuted," said Ryan.

"Did you ever make an investigation of the Los Angeles Times explosion in which 21 persons were murdered?" asked Mr. Miller.

"Yes, I tried to find out how it happened."

"And yet you recruited J. J. McNamara as secretary of the union after he was arrested?"

"Yes."

"And you had Hookin as secretary until yesterday?"

"Yes."

Mr. Ryan's cross-examination will be resumed tomorrow.

XMAS KETTLE BOILING

Harbingers of the Christmas holidays, the Salvation army kettles were seen on the street corners yesterday for the first time this year. The local branch of that organization is planning on giving a much more extensive Christmas dinner offering this year than ever before, and is asking for contributions for the work by means of the kettles on the streets.

More than 150 Christmas dinners will be distributed this year, in addition to clothing and gifts for the children. A Christmas tree celebration will be given Christmas eve in the rooms of the organization at 1314 South Cascade avenue.

the man had been convicted beyond a reasonable doubt. Another wrote for the governor's conference here, man whom he did not believe should be put to death. He did not believe with the classical school of penology it at the time, nor does he believe it now.

Favors Whipping Post.

"These are the errors of justice. I am trying to right with my power laws that criminals should ordinarily of pardon. I am proud of my record.

Flogging in some cases, for children, and the whipping post for violators of certain laws were advocated by Governor Baldwin of Connecticut in an address delivered this afternoon at the governor's conference here. Yet the thought of it is a daily terror to every woman in the south and brings a sense of uneasiness, and constant constraint into the life of her northern sisters. It is the cause of most of those "troubling" cases which distressed our civilization. It is to be kept down only by the severest methods.

Is it too much to say if the courts are not ready to apply these, the people will? The people who may thus bring some ruffian to his death will not be the best people in the community. They may occasionally select the worst man. But has a conviction ever yet been had in the United States of any one of a mob of lynchers for hanging a negro accused of this unmentionable crime?

That crime does a wrong to a woman which many of them have deemed worse than death. Such a man is no fit subject for an indeterminate sentence. He has proved his inherent weakness of will power. In every clear case, in my judgment, there should be a summary remedy."

Governor Baldwin's address followed an address by Governor Shafroth of Colorado, in which Governor Shafroth advocated lenient but certain punishment to criminals and cited his own state as an example where this system had worked well.

Governor Shafroth declared that severe punishment had proved no deterrent to crime. Certainly of punishment, in his opinion, with an opportunity to shorten the sentence through labor and good behavior, not only punished the criminal, but served alike a deterrent against future crimes and as incentive to reform.

He advocated the system in vogue in Colorado, under which gangs of 50 men worked without guards, save at night, on the public roads and expressed the hope that the time was near when the state could do more than this and pay the convict a nominal wage for the work he performed.

Arkansas Governor Favors Death.

Governor Donaghey of Arkansas declared for a severe penalty for lynchings. No punishment save death, he said, would deter murderers from their crime.

Every court of appeals should be abolished, in the opinion of Governor Eberhart of Minnesota. The jury system, he thought, was responsible for the frequent miscarriages of justice.

Saturday, he said, a man could plead guilty to many varieties of insanity and escape the consequences of crime. Under the present jury system he added, it was all but impossible to select intelligent men for jury service.

HURT BY MOTORCYCLE

Mrs. C. A. Eldredge, 18 East Willamette avenue, a prominent clubwoman, is recovering from injuries sustained last Saturday afternoon, when she was struck by a motorcycle.

The accident occurred at the northwest corner of Tejon and Bijou streets. Her injuries consisted of severe bruises, she was unable to walk to an automobile that conveyed her home. The motorcycleist stopped his machine after the accident and assisted Mrs. Eldredge to her feet and to the automobile. He was summoned.

TAFT ON FOREIGN RELATIONS

PRESIDENT TAFT, in the first of his series of messages to congress, transmitted today, shows no hesitancy in defending the so-called "dollar diplomacy." The policy, he says, "is one that appeals alike to idealistic humanitarian sentiments, to the dictates of sound policy and strategy, and to legitimate commercial aims. It is an effort frankly directed to the increase of American trade upon the axiomatic principle that the government of the United States shall extend all proper support to every legitimate and beneficial American enterprise abroad."

This policy, the president asserts, has been justified by results. "Our foreign trade increased $200,000,000 last year, most of the increase being in manufactured goods shipped from America. The maximum and minimum tariff provision helped in increasing the foreign trade, but still other legislation is needed, he says, giving the president greater authority in making tariff changes needed to offset discriminations by foreign nations."

The president may well congratulate himself on the foreign policy of the administration. While it has been criticised in some quarters as being too frankly mercenary, yet those critics who assert that the secretary of state's office has been used simply to further the schemes of J. P. Morgan have but little to back up their claim. On the other hand, the administration has exerted America's influence for peace in all countries, has kept from entanglement in Mexico, and generally has made a most creditable record.

President Taft takes credit to himself, and no more than is deserved, for his efforts in reorganizing the state department, by the creation of various foreign bureaus, and by his extension of the merit system in the consular and diplomatic corps. The president has made some political appointments. But of the 10 ambassadors appointed by him, five were by promotion from minister; of the 30 ministers, 11 were promotions; of the 19 South American ministers, 15 are service men; every one of the 37 secretaries of legation appointed during the present administration was appointed solely on merit, after a civil service examination.

For the first time, it may be said, the American diplomatic service is firmly upon a merit basis. As the president well says: "The fundamental foreign policies of the United States should be raised high above the conflict of partisanship and wholly dissociated from differences as to domestic policy. In its foreign affairs the United States should present to the world a united front."

President Wilson can do no better than follow, in its general outlines, the foreign policy of President Taft. Above all, he should resist the importunities of office-hungry Democrats to throw down the bars in the diplomatic service, and make all appointments as political rewards. There can be no real continuity of policy, no adequate American representation in foreign nations, until the diplomatic corps is placed firmly upon a merit basis and politics is absolutely excluded.

THE UNION PACIFIC DECISION

ADVOCATES of the Sherman law as the cure-all for our economic ills surely have cause for rejoicing in the decision of the supreme court, holding the purchase by the Union Pacific of a controlling interest in Southern Pacific stocks a violation of the antitrust act, and ordering the Union Pacific to get rid of its 46 per cent holdings in Southern Pacific.

This decision goes a step farther than the court went in the Northern Securities decision. It was then held unlawful for a holding company to acquire the stock of two or more competing roads. It is now declared to be unlawful for one railroad to acquire stock in a competing road.

What the decision will accomplish in the settlement of railroad problems is decidedly questionable. The court itself, while the decision is unanimous, seems entirely without enthusiasm in making it. "While the law may not be able to enforce competition," says Justice Day in his opinion, "it can reach combinations which render competition impracticable."

Yet of what avail will have been the prosecution of the Union Pacific, if competition is not restored? It is to preserve competition that the Sherman law exists. If competition isn't preserved even when the law is enforced, what's the use of spending the public money, and upsetting business, merely to win a suit that, when it is won, gains nothing.

It would be difficult for the bitterest enemy of the railroads to prove that the Union and Southern Pacific amalgamation had resulted in injury to either road or to the public. When Harriman got them together all that railroads ought not to be. The Union Pacific in particular was a disgrace to railroading. Now the Harriman lines are the best, in track and equipment, west of the Mississippi. The lines have practically been rebuilt. They serve their communities far more efficiently than they ever did in the old days before "competition" was ended by the amalgamation—and this in spite of the fact that rates have not advanced.

If the sale of Union Pacific's interest in Southern Pacific would better the administration of the properties, would increase grain service or lower rates, there might be some justification for great jubilation over the court's decision. But it won't do any of those things. And it isn't even certain that the enforced sale of Union Pacific's Southern Pacific holdings will change the ownership of the latter road—unless the court enjoins Union Pacific stockholders from purchasing Southern Pacific stock.

"As the Northern Securities company plan failed 10 years ago, so the Harriman plan failed today," says the press report. But the Northern Securities decision did not in the least disturb the ownership of the Hill roads. And it is at least doubtful whether the Union Pacific decision will change the ownership of the Harriman lines.

And it is certain it won't restore competition, or lower rates. Competition has been dead many years in the railroad business. But competition has been regulated in the interest of the people by the interstate commerce commission, so that the railroads are prevented from charging excessive rates. And the thing that is needed right now, for the stricter control of the railroads, is not Sherman antitrust suits, but a law giving the interstate commerce commission power to make a physical valuation of all railroads, as a necessary basis for the making of rates equitable and just to railroads, shippers and the general public.

IT CANNOT LIE

ENEMIES of the Progressive party assert it is about to perish. Yet today a council of church members, representing practically every Protestant denomination in America, is to meet in Chicago to discuss the church in its relation to social problems. And the Progressive party platform is the only platform that in any degree answers to the demands enunciated by these Christian sociologists.

Far from being in danger of dying, the Progressive party is just entering upon a career that shall, within a very few years, make it the dominant political party of the United States. It is the only party, outside of the Socialist party, that realizes the fact that social justice must be done in the United States, and it differs from the Socialist party in that it approaches the solution of these great problems in a spirit of brotherhood rather than in one of unreasoning hatred of all who oppose its proposals.

The Progressive party will live as long as it answers that demand, which the churches are voicing today, for a party that makes the welfare of humanity the chief object of its existence.

WE'LL ALL HELP

WHO will put up the money for the Progressive campaigns of 1914 and 1916? sneers the Washington Star, assuming that Perkins and Flinn by that time will have had enough of the new party. The Star and standpatters generally need not worry. Plans are now being laid for the raising of needed funds from monthly subscriptions by the rank and file. The Progressives will finance their own campaigns.

FROM OTHER PENS

"EDUCATING" THE PUEBLOS.
From the New York Tribune.
Mr. Arthur C. Parker of the science division of the New York State education department, himself a man of distinguished Indian descent, makes a plea in a recent article in the Southern Workman for Indian education which will conserve Indian character and culture and develop the best qualities of the race instead of trying to make the Indian a poorly educated white man. "Why," he asks, "should the Pueblo be torn from his adobe town house and transplanted to a half built shack of mill timber? Why decenterize him and at the same time raze over his beautiful native products? Almost simultaneously there come to our notice a study of the 'Mystics of the Terraced Houses,' whose author, Mr. Francis Penn, is a Pueblo, though much lighter in the advantages which might come from following Mr. Parker's idea, at least, in regard to those agricultural people with an ancient, well developed culture.

Mr. Saunders complains that the government is mechanically applying to the Pueblo Indians an educational policy devised for nomadic savages. It has, indeed, left them their lands and freed them from taxation, which is well; but it has failed to realize that their agriculture, their cooking, their clothing, their social order and their training of children are exactly suited to their needs, and to produce an orderly, cleanly, healthy and prosperous people, with arts and crafts well worthy of study and preservation.

The Pueblo Indians were irritable long before America was discovered. It is pending words to Newcastle to teach them the rudiments of raising corn and beans. The women are skilful cooks at open hearths and with bake ovens, and are healthily employed at them in well ventilated rooms of the open air. The field nation introduces a cooking stove and with it bad air, dyspepsia and tuberculosis. Their loose and simple but decent clothing is exactly fitted to their climate. The passion to civilize them with the white man's dress, always at his underclothing, means dirt and dirt in a land where water for laundry purposes is at a premium. The children are carefully and happily trained in the arts and traditions of their people and make thoroughly good citizens. Yet the government policy seems to be to drag them as far from home as possible to be taught the white man's learning, which they are stupid about, though quick in their own ways. Even if a boy acquires it, he is rarely able to compete with the whites in their field, and it utterly out of touch with his own civilization and useless at home. We ourselves have seen eastern school graduates back among the Pueblos, and evidently all they were fitted for was a place behind a counter selling curiosities to tourists. Mr. Saunders comments feelingly on the pathetic fate of many of these young men and women whom he observed.

Mr. Saunders does not advocate holding back Indians who want the white man's education. And he fully concedes the value of work which the government might do in day schools and through field agents in developing the Pueblo people along the lines of their own primitive culture. His protest is against trying to turn them into something different and against our passion for making all people over in our own image. And we think he is right. These people are far along in a civilization developed by themselves. There is no reason why they should not retain and advance that civilization according to their own genius. The Indian bureau would do well to consider a change in its policy with respect to them.

AUSTRIA AS A DISTURBER.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.
It isn't Turkey that menaces the peace of Europe outside the Balkans. The Turks can be disposed of. It has been a long time coming, but these blood-thirsty and red-handed barbarians are in a fair way at last to get the punishment that is many years overdue. No, it isn't Turkey that is the menace, but Austria.

The cowardly and jealous-of-each-other powers of Europe are entirely responsible for the existing war with all its horrors and atrocities. They have never dared to say to Turkey, "Thou shalt not." And now they are sitting around like a lot of weak-kneed old men and shivering with fright because one of their number—Austria—insists that little Serbia shall not have a seaport on the Adriatic. It would have been the easiest thing in the world for the cowardly powers of Europe had they not been so jealous of each other, to have stripped the Turks of all opportunity for ever doing by simply enforcing the treaty of Berlin, but they didn't. And it would be the easiest thing in the world for them to say to Austria now, "Hands off!" But will they? Or are they still a pack of gibbering cowards, unable to stand together because of their jealousies?

PROFANITY.

From the Kansas City Star.
There is the secular objection to profanity that it is so lazy. There is not an oath used in a speech that would not be thought of a man who would tell the same joke twice. People's jokes over and over. Is there anything more tiresome than the talk of a person who uses overworked phrases?

When the Tide Turns

By RUTH CAMERON.

"When you get into a tight place and everything goes against you until it seems you cannot hold on a minute longer, never give up then, for that is just the place and time that the tide will turn."—Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Sometimes life's a mighty good thing to be do fowes' epoke in de Wheel us' Fortune; you jes' bleed to come up, no matter which' away de wheel turns.

Of all the proverbs that pack our language it seems to me there is none with more real meaning in it than this: "It's always darkest just before dawn."

Just before yesterday I had one of those days when nothing happens as it should, when one calamity follows hotly upon the heels of another, in short, "when everything goes dead wrong."

The employment bureau which had promised to send me a first-class maid sent out a stammering and brazen creature who smelled unmistakably of brandy; the maid who was departing evaded her employer's breaking my favorite vase; she also left the box open and the cat stole the dinner; I went shopping and found a long too late; I saw myself of a rare bargain in a long-coveted article for which I cannot afford to pay the full price; the postman brought me a bill which was about twice what I expected, and a letter from a dear friend saying she would have to give up the visit we had planned; the drainage not stopped up; I walked two miles to interview a maid about whom I had heard only to find she had taken a position on a house; and, to top it all off, I came home so tired and exasperated that I lost my temper completely and finished the day by saying disagreeable things to those I love best in the world.

I went to bed absolutely disheartened and wondering what there was in the world worth living for. That was day before yesterday, and yesterday was a golden day. For, as it always does, the tide having reached its lowest ebb, turned and came flooding in, bearing all sorts of blessings.

I have chronicled these two days so fully because I think they are typical in the lives of all of us. Into every life there comes just about once in a while one of those utterly disheartening days, but isn't it just as sure that a day like this is almost always followed by a day of successes and blessings, of peace and happiness?

When the tide has reached its lowest ebb it simply must turn. "It's always darkest just before dawn."

Nor is this true merely of separate days and of trifling annoyances. It is also true of long periods in our lives and of great sorrows.

The happiest time of my life came to me just after I had emerged from my greatest grief. My most successful year followed one of complete discouragement.

Is today one of those days of trial and annoyance for you?
Is this year one of your years of grief and discouragement?
Conquer, comrades, try to remember "It's always darkest just before dawn."

Wastepaper Baskets

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

A wastepaper basket is a paraphernalia for ideas. Ideas are supposed to proceed from mind to mind, but about three-quarters of them proceed from typewriter to wastepaper basket by the quickest route.

The wastepaper basket is one of the most important parts of the modern office equipment, and it does a large share of the work of the office. It is always and always patient. The boss may only read the first line of a three-page letter, but the wastepaper basket will take it all and hold it patiently until relieved at night. The ordinary wastepaper basket begins the morning on an empty stomach, but by night is so full of politicians' empty applications for positions, gold mine circulars, book advertisements, notice of lectures, preferred stock and miscellaneous literature that it aches in the ribs.

"Enlarged to many times its former capacity."

Since the typewriter, the mimeograph and the printing press have become great, the wastepaper basket has had to be enlarged to many times its former capacity. One hundred years ago a two-quart wastepaper basket would have accommodated the president of these United States for a week. Today a five-gallon basket doesn't last him twenty minutes. There ought to be some way of saving mail carriers by depositing personal wastepaper baskets at each postoffice. This would shorten the transportation of thousands of tons of circulars and undesired advice and would make us a happier and more useful nation.

The wastepaper basket produces fuel for the furnace and old paper for the mill. But the cost of producing this material is staggering. It takes $17.45 in stamps alone to fill a wastepaper basket. There are hundreds of people who write exclusively for the wastepaper baskets of this nation and who devote all their time to it. For every play which is written for the stage a hundred are written for the wastepaper basket, and the basket of a grocer and haughty producer will contain in the end the labor of 30 men for six months.

There ought to be some way of bottling wastepaper baskets and of reducing their contents to condensed and useful ideas. Full many a rose is born to blush unseen and fall many an idea which might have reduced the cost of living or tickled a nation has died, undischarged, into some overworked and unappreciative wastepaper basket. These were the ideas we would encourage and save for the conservation of the wastepaper basket contents.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Your attendance at social affairs will be solicited. These will keep you from your highest ambitions, for the cure of your health is most important for the present and the way to health lies out of doors.

Those born today will be clever and alert and inclined to sensitiveness. Good friends and good fortune will follow them, but will not always be appreciated.

MANY ALIENS IN OUR COLLEGES

From the World's Work Magazine.
Among the regular students at American colleges and universities in 1912 were 4,556 from foreign lands. The constituency of this group of young men who have come to the United States to study is interesting. Naturally, we find that the neighboring countries sent many: Canada 892, Mexico 294, West Indies 698. It is gratifying to know that 544 came from China and 415 from Japan. There were 123 Filipinos who ought to take back to their countrymen a better understanding of the United States, whether or not they acquiesce in its policies toward their native land.

The 21 Koreans who will return to their unfortunate land ought to be equipped to do something for its elevation. These are all understandable. But what are 143 young Germans doing away from their own universities, particularly those of the world's most enlightened centers of science and philosophy?

USE X-RAYS TO FIND PEARLS.

From the London Chronicle.
The X-rays are used in the Ceylon pearling industry. When the oysters are brought up they are immediately photographed by the X-rays, and from these photographs it can easily be seen which oysters contain the pearl parasite and which are parasiteless. Into the latter the parasite might (it has been suggested) be easily introduced, and the oysters returned to the sea for the development of the pearls. The only other method of discovering whether oysters is to open them, and that means the death of the oysters.

More New Christmas Things at Hardy's

IN THE FAIRY DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 4, 1912.

The city council passed an ordinance granting the Denver and New Orleans railroad a further right of way on Moreno avenue to the west of Sixth street in order that it might construct a Y.

Major E. H. Betts, the Western Union operator in this city, distinguished himself by receiving President Arthur's message, amounting to over 10,000 words, besides the regular press report, remaining at the key without relief for over 12 hours.

City Clerk McCreary was kept very busy collecting the semiannual water rents.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 4, 1892.

A live pigeon shoot was held at the Country club between the club team and one representing the Denver Athletic club. The latter were victorious by a score of 59 to 53.

There was a grand free fight at the Rio Grande station between the drivers of Crumley Bros. hacks and the Colorado Springs Transfer company's buses. Marshal Dana ordered five of the participants to appear in the police court.

W. J. Lawrence, superintendent of the Colorado Midland, resigned. It was understood that he had been offered a better position with the Rock Island.

THE HASKIN LETTER
THE FISH INDUSTRY
XII FISHING FOR SPORT
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

White Governor Wilson has not yet announced himself as a disciple of Isaac Walton, fishermen still remember the achievements of the last Democratic leader, and President Cleveland's views upon fishing are regarded as final by true sportsmen. While as a writer he is less widely known than one of the more recent presidents, his book upon small fish and the joys of the fisherman is regarded as a classic by those who love to angle for a piscatorial treasure in the quiet, philosophical manner of a Walton.

There are two kinds of fishing for sport, each of which has its devotees. Although there are not as few men and even women who find equal pleasure in both.

There is the quiet, patient following of a trail in unfrequented streams and lakes for small fish which call for skill and care in baiting and sometimes almost infinite time in waiting. But the joy of such fishing when it is finally landed, a gleaming speckled beauty! The time of waiting and trailing gives ample opportunity for quiet meditation and an appreciation of the scene's soft and quiet nature.

The other kind of fishing is not so quiet and restful. It calls for vigorous action and carries with it the spice of daring, the allurements of adventure. This is the fishing for big game fish in the open sea which becomes more popular each year with athletic, active men. It is especially popular with the Pacific coast, bordering upon California. There is no limit to the risks which are taken each year of the risks encountered in the capture of the giant swordfish, the tarpon, the tuna and several others including the great squid or devil fish, and the octopus which are so numerous along the Pacific coast. There are many organizations devoted to "sport" fishing and their activities not only afford pleasure to their members, but also materially add to the scientific knowledge of the habits of fish as well as helping to prevent their slaughter by improper methods of capture.

Famous Fishing Club

One of the most important of the large American fishing clubs is the large club of California which has called upon its membership such names as Theodore Roosevelt, Gifford Pinchot, Henry Van Dyke, Caspar Whitney and the late Grover Cleveland. This club has reduced rod and reel fishing to an exact science and has had great influence in introducing movement. At the tuna club, the most venturesome sport. These monsters sometimes measure 50 feet in length. The fish is barrel shaped with an arrow shaped tail. It weighs a ton or more. Around its head are ten arms provided with sucker-like devices which enable it to seize its prey easily. It has a parrot-like beak and is provided with a good-sized head filled with an inky fluid which it discharges at its enemies, thereby clouding the water and making good its escape. The Notre Dame bay, off the coast of New France, is famous for its giant squids which sometimes attack fishermen. Squid hunting is not a popular in front to support his rod. He baits his hook with a six-pound white fish or a piece of albacore and tosses it out into 40 feet of water. After a bit he plays out 10 or 20 feet more line and then strikes or pulls. If he hooks his fish there is a sudden rush and the boatman steers either to follow the fish or keeps the angler stern to it until he brings it near enough the boat to be taken by the gaff. It may take several hours from the time the fish is hooked until it is brought near enough to gaff. If the fish weighs above 20 pounds it is towed into shore by the gaff alongside the boat. If it is under 150 it is taken on deck. These sea bass average over 250 pounds but have been known to weigh 300.

What many sportsmen consider the greatest game fish of this country is the leaping tuna, which comes into California bay in June and remains until August. This fish has been known to tow a boat for 30 miles. There are several varieties of tuna fish along the Pacific coast. The long finned tuna, or albacore, is so ravenous it has been known to snatch bait from the hand and it may frequently be hooked from the side of the boat. The bonito or skipjack is also a favorite fish upon that coast. It is smaller than the others, having an average weight of 20 pounds but it has a peculiar wriggling motion which gives the angler some exciting moments. The white sea bass is another fish requiring skill to land and the tuna club offers valuable prizes to encourage anglers to use light rods in its capture. The club record for this fish is 60 pounds but in the Gulf of California, white sea bass have been taken weighing 150 pounds.

Ocean Sunfish Interesting

A peculiar fish that appeals to many sportsmen is the ocean sunfish which is found in temperate waters all over the world. It does not take bait well and generally is speared, but sometimes is hooked from the side of a sailing ship by a gear and is towed to shore. It has a great head and a small body. This fish is taken off the middle of the Atlantic as well as off the Florida coast and in southern California waters. It has been known to weigh 2,200 pounds. A man who captured one weighing half a ton had an exciting time towing it to shore where it measured 10 feet in height. This fish is most extraordinary in appearance. It has no visible fins, but seems all head and two large fins pointing up and down. Its skin is used as wadding and its muscles as a substitute for rubber in the center of golf balls.

The taking of a giant squid is a sufficiently exciting sport to satisfy the most venturesome man. These monsters sometimes measure 50 feet in length. The fish is barrel shaped with an arrow shaped tail. It weighs a ton or more. Around its head are ten arms provided with sucker-like devices which enable it to seize its prey easily. It has a parrot-like beak and is provided with a good-sized head filled with an inky fluid which it discharges at its enemies, thereby clouding the water and making good its escape. The Notre Dame bay, off the coast of New France, is famous for its giant squids which sometimes attack fishermen. Squid hunting is not a popular

Bills to minimize Sunday labor and compel a day of rest for all working people will be introduced this winter in the legislatures of Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma, by representatives of the Lord's Day alliance, according to the announcement of the Rev. J. P. Hutchinson of this city. At a meeting of the Denver Ministerial alliance, the Rev. Mr. Hutchinson said that the bills will be brought up before the people for an initiative vote, if they failed in the legislature. Among other things, the bills would operate to close all theaters and moving picture shows on Sunday, and would stop Sunday baseball.

WOMAN BLOCKS HIGHWAY THREATENS TO USE GUN

Declaring in a communication to the county commissioners that she will shoot the first man who tries to open the road, Emma M. H. Mohr, under Swedish-American name, 411 Adelaide place, acting she says, under divine advice, has closed the Lincoln highway, three and one-half miles north-east of Ramah.

The county commissioners have conferred with County Attorney Strachan, who will petition the district court for an order reopening the road and restraining Mrs. Mohr from interfering with traffic on the highway.

When the road was surveyed several years ago the county commissioners, appointed appraisers who fixed the value of the right of way required. All the property owners with the exception of Mrs. Mohr accepted the payment for the right of way. She decided that the land was worth more than the proffered payment.

It is said that she stretched three wires across the road at each end of her homestead, and posted a notice that trespassers would each be fined $25, and also sent the threat to the county commissioners.

Acceptance of an offer by Mrs. Mohr to give right of way through the south end of her land would necessitate two crossings of the road over the Rock Island railroad, and the original survey will be enforced.

Baffled Train Crew Given Horse Laugh

Three horses held up Colorado Midland passenger No. 6 in Cascade canon just before daybreak yesterday. One horse was killed in the encounter, and the train was delayed 35 minutes in arrival at Colorado Springs.

With the train in pursuit, the horses dashed down the track in the rays of the headlight, and nothing daunted dashed through the nine tunnels between Cascade and Manitou, rather than yield the chase.

The fireman climbed out on the pilot and tried to shoot the horses off the track, but they gave him the genuine horse laugh. Neither were they frightened by the screaming of the whistle to which the engineer resorted in desperation, awakening passengers in the Pullmans, who in learning of the race, entered the spirit of the unique incident.

One of the horses fell through a trestle at El Paso and was killed. Another left the track at Manitou, while the third and last scampered into a pasture near Colorado City.

The horses got on the track just below Divide.

R. L. McKinnis and Miss Nolon Will Wed Today

Richard Lee McKinnis, son of James R. McKinnis, capitalist of this city and Los Angeles, and Miss Madeline A. Nolon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nolon of Manitou, will be married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nolon at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Only relatives and a few close friends will witness the ceremony. G. H. Gieseler will act as best man, and Miss Margaret Glasser of Denver will be maid of honor. Mr. and Mrs. McKinnis will leave immediately after the ceremony for a tour of California.

Miss Nolon is a graduate of Mount Vernon seminary, Miss Somers' school in Washington, D. C.

FOOTBALL DANCE AT ANTLERS, FRIDAY EVE.

Complimentary to the members of the football team, the senior class of the High school will give the annual football dance at the Antlers hotel, Friday night, starting at 8:30 o'clock. The program will be in the shape of miniature footballs, and each dance will be dedicated to some member of the team. Music will be furnished by Fink's orchestra, and 500 invitations have been sent out.

APPOINTMENT APPROVED

The county commissioners have approved the appointment of Louis McMahon as deputy county treasurer to succeed Gus Leibold, resigned. They suggest that the salary be fixed at $125 a month. Mr. Leibold received $180, but the commissioners stated that he had been employed in the office for years, and his great familiarity with the work entitled him to that salary.

Every effort is being made to land this meeting, which has never been held in Colorado.

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN IN FARMERS' INSTITUTES

Ranchers all over El Paso county are taking an unusual interest in the farmers' institutes that are being conducted by W. H. Lauck, educational commissioner of El Paso county, in various parts of the section. Two sessions are being held from 10 to 11:30 in the forenoon and from 1:30 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, with a picnic dinner at noon. The farmers are turning out in large numbers, bringing their problems to the expert for discussion.

Mr. Lauck is discussing the various types of crops, feeding and raising, type of farms, fences and irrigation, and dry farming methods, grass seed, windmill irrigation, and power appliances.

Today's meeting will be held at Union school house, and tomorrow at the Crescent school house.

TOTAL OF $10,560,421 ON DEPOSIT IN SPRINGS

According to the statement of the six Colorado Springs banks yesterday, in response to the call of the comptroller of currency, the close of business on November 26, there was $10,560,421.49 deposited in the institutions on that date. The statements follow:

ABOLISH R. R. PASSES

Following the example set by the larger railroads that extend into other states, in discontinuing free transportation, except to employees, the Colorado Midland, Midland, Terminal, Florence & Cripple Creek, and Short Line roads, all Colorado properties, have announced that there will be no passes whatever on their lines in the future. The only individuals who will secure the privilege are those connected with the railroads in some capacity.

Jesse H. Waters, general manager of the allied Cripple Creek lines, believes that the new regulations will work out better, both for the public and the railroads, than the old "pass" evil. Although no individuals have been bringing against the roads for technical violation of the laws of the interstate commerce commission, they are not going to take any chances.

Reports were received from the various state penal and charitable institutions as the meeting, and a detailed plan of the home's compensation was held.

Easy to Get Rid of Corns THIS Way

"GETS-IT" the New Corn Cure. Guaranteed.

"Corns Gone! GETS-IT GOT 'EM!"

"GETS-IT" is the new-plant corn cure that will surely surprise you the very first time you use it. It is so simple, painless, quick and sure in its action.

It shrivels up the corn, wart, callous or bunion, separates them from the true flesh, the corn comes off, and there you are with feet that feel positively glorious, corn-free once more as they used to be in your "barefoot days."

The most remarkable feature is that "GETS-IT" does not burn, or turn raw the healthy flesh as other preparations do. It is as safe as water. No more plasters, bandages, or salves. "GETS-IT" is sold at drug stores at 50c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

There are few things that give you as much satisfaction as the knowledge that you are getting your full money's worth for the money you spend on your table.

We have built this business on exactly that idea—without frills of any sort, we are able to give you a full flavored coffee, rightly blended to this dry climate, and most economical.

News of Local Courts

Claiming that his wife preferred to bestow her affection on W. B. Hasken, John P. Taffe yesterday was granted a divorce in the county court from Gertrude Florence Taffe. The couple were married in Kansas City, Kan., January 30, 1901. Mrs. Taffe did not contest the suit. Taffe was given custody of their 3-year-old child.

The El Paso Lumber company yesterday filed suit in the district court asking judgment for $379.35, interest and $5 for leaving lien statement against Miner A. Whitney and Henry Barkey, for building material.

Claiming that Miles Snell, a wealthy ranchman living near Ramah, has injured his practice by malicious interference, Dr. E. G. Holden, a young physician at Ramah, has filed suit in the district court for $500 actual and $5,000 exemplary damages. Dr. Holden alleges that Snell used intending patients to engage other physicians, and that in one instance he told a patient that if Dr. Holden were summoned he would be in danger of losing both his wife and baby. Snell is an old settler in Elbert county and is alleged by Dr. Holden to be worth $20,000.

JAPANESE EXCLUSION ACT HAS IMPROVED CONDITIONS

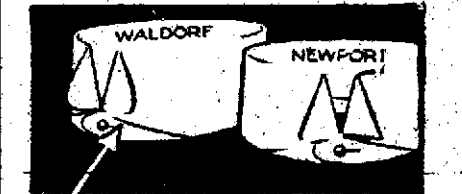

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 3.—N. Yatsushiro, manager of the Sumitoku bank of Osaka, Japan, who is studying the condition of Japanese on the Pacific coast, believes Japanese exclusion has been beneficial to his countrymen residing in America. "The effect of exclusion has been to improve the condition of the Japanese in this country," said Mr. Yatsushiro today. "Before the exclusion order, they came here to stay only a short time. Now they hope to make their homes here. The result is a higher standard among them. I think the Japanese laborers are responsible for whatever anti-Japanese sentiment there may be here. Most of them are rough, uneducated farmers and do not understand that they should conform to the customs of the land. It is the duty of educated Japanese in this country to teach these people to conduct themselves properly."

RURAL COMEDY AT THE GRAND

"Uncle Josh Perkins," described as a rural comedy drama in four acts, with locales in New York and Vermont, is booked for an engagement of two days at the Grand opera house, Friday night, Saturday matinee and night, December 6 and 7.

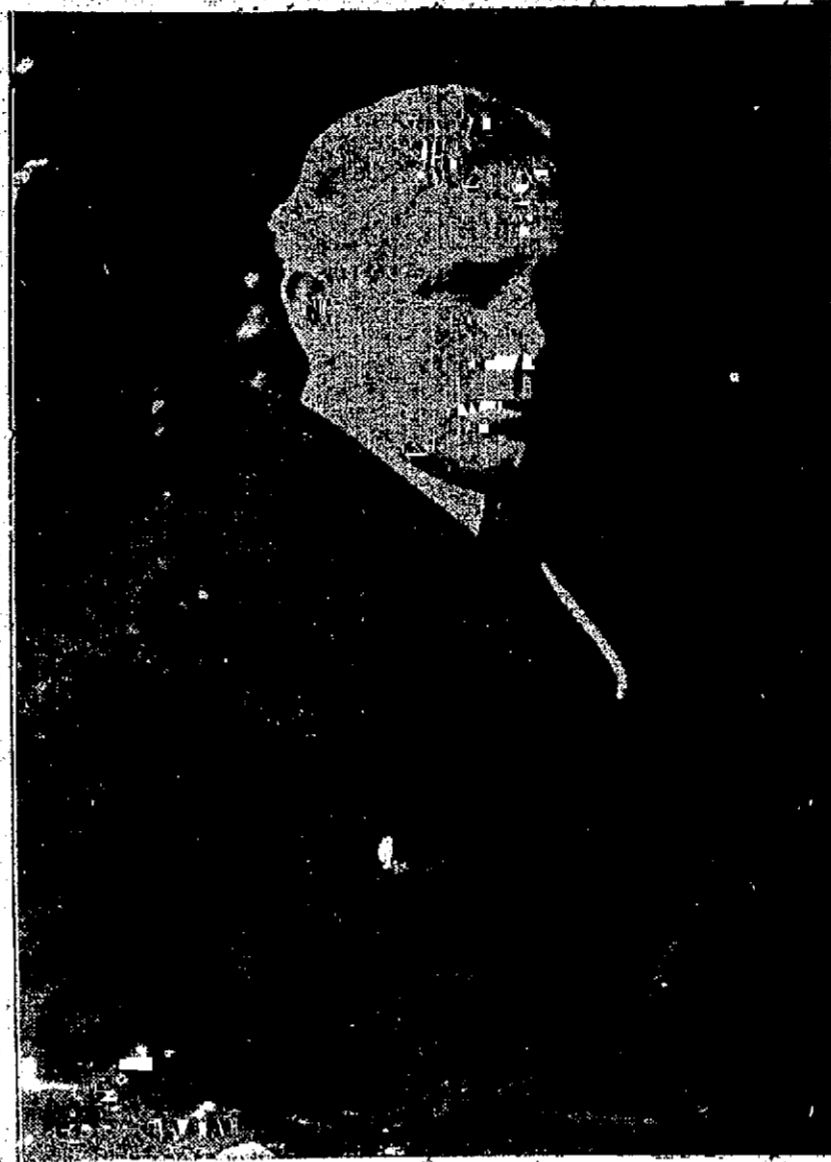

This is a play which has outlived in popularity all other offerings of its kind. With its attractive romance, clever drama, wholesome comedy and interesting story, "Uncle Josh Perkins" has come to be recognized as the true exponent of New England. The title role is probably the best known of its type in the American theater of today. No more lovable

"The Spring Maid" and with a more consistent and deft story, Granch-steen's bubbling musical score gives it Viennese sparkle.

"The Rose Maid" will endure because it has been provided with the elements of success along legitimate lines, because of its fascinating numbers that will be whistling favorites for months to come.

Verba & Luescher are said to have a property in this place that cannot fail to prove a worthy slater to their successful "Spring Maid" of recent joyous memory.

The cast is a lengthy one, and the foremost players of it are Perle Barti, the demure Italian singer; Henry Coote, who sang the famously difficult

D. B. KENNEDY

With "Uncle Josh Perkins," Opera House, Friday and Saturday, December 6 and 7, Matinee Saturday.

Character than Uncle Josh has been visualized, and even though he has emanated from the playwright's creative ability, the story in which Uncle Josh is the central figure teems with human interest and good philosophy. In addition to the attractiveness of "Uncle Josh Perkins" as a play, and to the fact that this season the entire company comprises a list of capable actors, a number of entertaining, new specialties are introduced of course, an already popular successful offering. Prices: Nights, 25c, 50c and 75c. Saturday matinee, 25c, any seat. Seats on sale for night performance tomorrow morning.

"THE ROSE MAID" COMING

With every minute of its two acts, said to be as refreshing and colorful as springtime itself, "The Rose Maid" operetta, boasting a more elaborate production than any of the Viennese musical offerings of recent vogue, is announced to appear at the Grand Opera house next Monday and Tuesday evening, December 9 and 10. Since its first performance in New York, where it ran into its second season, this times it took with its pretty romance of the gay Duke of Barchester and a little rose girl has proven doubly irresistible to music-loving theatergoers.

Instead of the old-fashioned opening chorus, "The Rose Maid" begins with a romping dance in the duke's ballroom. The flitting gaily girls are re-creating in their riotous fun to music throbbing with seductive and sensuous motifs. Every scene is played to haunting music that set the audience humming. "The Rose Maid," the "Bachelors' Dance," the "Happy Family" song and the "Moon Song" are especially charming. Whether it be a comedy episode or some unexpected turn in the vivid tale of the careless hero and his good little Daphne, there is Viennese melody to please the ear and start each susceptible to a-tapping.

With even a greater share of comedy than its famous sister operetta, music of the "Waltz Dream," and "The Chocolate Soldier," Leo Stark, Edward Gallagher, Harry Lester Mason, Ida Van Tine, Irene Munsey, William Bentley and the other singers and comedians who made "The Rose Maid" the season's triumph.

SPECIAL NOTE—THE BURNS

Our New York agent writes us that he has been especially fortunate in closing contracts for the following high-class plays which will be produced at The Burns in the order named:

"A Bachelor's Romance," "Dandy Dick" (one of Pinner's best), "The Marriage of Kitty," "Her Husband's Wife."

The management take great pleasure in making this announcement, which insures them being able to give the public the very best of entertainment during the holiday season. As soon as other contracts are closed, we shall take our patrons into our confidence and let them know in advance what they may look forward to seeing.

As to the future it is but fair to say that to a large extent it depends entirely on the support the public gives to the above exceptionally fine list of attractions.

NEWS NOTES—THE BURNS

Little Editha James will again appear at the Burns in a bright boy's part. Her work before insures pleasure for our patrons.

We aim to make this one of our best weeks—the play is sure to appeal—the house needs no recommendation—we shall take, as usual, the greatest care as to ventilation and temperature.

Mr. William Fink is out to beat his record.

To see the best in the way means to go to the Burns.

The Burns players will be seen in a specially suitable play this week, "A Little Gray Lady."

One matinee this week—Saturday. Prices within the reach of all, 50c, 35c, 25c.

Come and see "The Little Gray Lady."

One of the prettiest romances of the day.

"THE ISLE OF DREAMS"

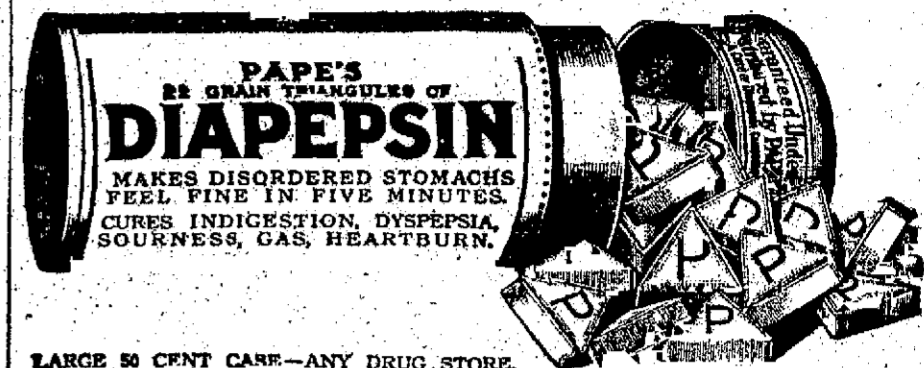

Miss Patry Ann Epperson of Louisville, Ky., who took the leading part, is entitled to all the credit for the successful production of the beautiful musical comedy seen at the Opera house last week, under the auspices of the Women's club. A large portion of the musical numbers and songs were composed and written by Miss Epperson. At the request of a great many people, the clubs and Miss Epperson have decided to reproduce "The Isle of Dreams" at the Opera house, Thursday of next week, giving two performances, matinee and night, at popular prices. All those who took part in the former engagement are anxious for Miss Epperson to give another performance. Manager Nye of the Opera house, who has been interested the past 30 years in putting on home-talent shows, claims that this was the most complete and best performance he ever saw in the Opera house produced by local people.

Discuss Benefits Good Salary and 6-Hour Day

The benefits of a salary of $2,000 a year and a six-hour working day for men were discussed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the woman's auxiliary of the local Socialist organization, held at the home of Mrs. P. J. Watkins, 1612 North Royer street. Mrs. Watkins led the discussion with a paper.

She said that the men could have plenty of good food and comfortable plain clothes for themselves and their families, could maintain a decent, respectable and properly furnished home, could educate their children, and could have some holidays during the year on the pay mentioned. She declared that the six-hour day would better the physical condition of the workers, decrease the death rate, promote the good health of the children of the workers and work for the general betterment of the race.

The shortened day, she asserted, would result in putting all men to work, thus preventing unemployment and the pay could be secured by a more equal distribution of wealth. The

TERROR-STERLING GAME CALLED OFF

There will be no post-season football game for the state championship between the Colorado Springs Terrors and the Sterling High school at Denver Saturday as planned by the two schools. This was the announcement given out yesterday by the local high school, as well as Sterling, the chief difficulty being the financial arrangements for the game. It would cost about $250 for the game to be staged in Denver and with the season buried these 10 days, the managements believed that it was not worth the candle.

This ends a wonderful football season for the Terrors, who, although there is no state championship, have as good a chance to the title as any other institution in the state.

Basketball will be started in a few weeks at Terror headquarters.

To Number Players in Basketball This Season, Say Rules

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The collegiate basketball rules for the coming season were explained and interpreted by the rules committee at a gathering of some 50 or more officials, coaches and players at a meeting at the Hotel Astor yesterday afternoon. Few changes affecting the game were made by the committee during the summer and as a result the meeting finished early, although the rule book was gone through from cover to cover.

Blocking opponents without personal contact and keeping players wide, an about-to-shoot from making a try for the basket by guarding from behind were the points on which the discussion lingered. In the end it simmered down to what constitutes and what does not constitute a personal foul. This provoked a lively argument which was waged between Harry Fisher, the Columbia member of the committee, and Dr. Koveroff, physical director at Princeton, and in the end it was decided that a recommendation be made to the rules committee to the effect that unnecessary roughness be made the basis for the calling of personal fouls and that the spirit of the present rules be retained rather than the letter. There was some talk of substituting a rule whereby a player would be disqualified for two minutes as in hockey rather than disqualified for good under the four foul rule now in vogue.

Bargaining a player from hospital was declared to be one of the most dangerous features of the present game and the officials were warned to be especially careful in the administration of that rule. By illustration it was demonstrated that it was practically impossible to guard a man from behind when he was about to try for goal without committing a foul. Bodily contact was held to be necessary before a man could be penalized for blocking.

Some of the more important of the changes that have been made in the rules are the numbering of players and the unifying of the bottom of the basket. The former rule is made necessary because of the fact that in the administration of the personal foul rule it was almost impossible to distinguish the player making the foul.

The referee by the new rules also must declare the ball in play ten seconds after it has been placed on the foul line for the shooting of the foul.

Jamaica has a great deal of valuable wood in its interior, but the streams are not large enough to bring it to the coast.

McGraw Is Possibility as President of Giants

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—John McGraw may be a real baseball magnate before the championship season of 1913 opens. It was reported yesterday that McGraw, in addition to his duties as manager of the Giants, is likely to be elected on all matters pertaining to baseball politics. In view of these things, McGraw's friends believe that Messrs. Hempstead and McCutcheon, supported by Mrs. Brush, will ask McGraw to accept the presidency.

JOHN J. MCGRAW, SCRAGGING GIANT MANAGER

ad president of the New York club, to succeed the late John T. Brush. At present the business affairs of the club are in the hands of N. H. Hempstead, vice president, and R. H. McCutcheon, treasurer, neither of whom has had any practical experience in professional baseball. Mr. Brush's will is to be probated in a few days, after which there will be an election, in which McGraw may cut an important figure.

It is known that before Mr. Brush died he so arranged matters that McGraw would remain in charge of the Giants for a long time, perhaps life. Furthermore, as a reward for McGraw's loyalty and the many successes he has scored on the ball field, Mr. Brush, it is said, expressed a wish that the little manager should be consulted.

According to the National League constitution, a manager or player under contract cannot represent his club in the league sessions. But there is nothing to cover the case of a manager-president.

In 1907 Edward Hanlon was president and manager of the Brooklyn club and represented the club at the annual meetings, so that in the event of McGraw's election as the club's president, it is expected he will be admitted to the councils of the league.

HOLY NAME WINS OPENER; 11 INNINGS NEEDED TO DECIDE

In one of the fastest indoor baseball exhibitions ever witnessed in the city, the Holy Name team defeated the Powell Doners by the score of 6 to 5 in an eleven inning battle at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night, the first of the series in the indoor baseball league. Both teams played tight ball, errors and hits being cut down and the excitement growing in leaps in the last three stanzas. The pitching of Barnes for the Holy Name and Menard for the Powell Doners was excellent.

The box score is as follows:

KETCHAM ELECTED CAPTAIN OF YALE FOR NEXT YEAR

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 3.—Henry Holman Ketcham, 3414, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was tonight elected captain of the Yale football team for 1914. Ketcham played center on the eleven for two years.

BOARD INVESTIGATES PROTESTS IN RACING

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Charges and protests that have arisen in the harness racing world are being investigated by the board of review of the National Trotting Association, which met here today.

Among the more important cases heard was that of the trotting mare, Lucy Simpson, 2:11.4, which 10-1 favorite in the 1913 season, was charged with having been tampered with. The case was postponed until a positive identification of the horse can be obtained.

Among the decisions were: Gypsy Lad, alias Arden Joe, was expelled from racing for one year for starting in a race not in his class. The owners of the horse, H. C. Longstreet, W. H. Fisher, J. S. Fisher and H. M. C. Fry, all of Mount Holy, N. J., were suspended until the alleged unlawful winnings of the horse are returned for redistribution.

J. O. Strauss, of Springtown, Pa., and Charles Opyk of Bethlehem, Pa., owner and driver of Moonshine, 2:15.1, were suspended until the winnings are redistributed. It was alleged that Strauss and Opyk entered the horse in the 2:20 class in Pennsylvania.

H. M. C. Fry of Mount Holy, N. J., was suspended for two years and his horse, Dick Allen, which ran races under the name of Reckon, was expelled from racing.

John E. Connolly of Saginaw, Mich., suspended a year ago along with his horse "Storm" was denied reinstatement.

CHARLIE BRICKLEY'S MOTHER NEVER SAW HIM PLAY GAME

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 3.—Mrs. William J. Brickley, mother of Charlie Brickley, Harvard's star halfback, never saw a football contest in her life. Moreover, she does not want to see one. But, nevertheless, she considers football the finest and noblest sport in the world.

While Charlie was training Yale's brother George was leading Everett High school to victory and two younger brothers, Arthur and Joseph, were enjoying themselves in a sand game at Everett.

Mrs. Brickley was visiting with a friend to relieve the nervous condition. She is gray haired, but fresh faced, with abundant humor in her blue eyes and cordiality in her smile. Her chief charm is her motherliness.

"People may think I'm cowardly when I refuse to watch my boys play football, but I simply can't bear to see them in danger of breaking their arms or smashing their heads," Mrs. Brickley explained.

"Mr. Brickley attends the games, you couldn't keep him away. But, you know, I like to be at home when my boys come back from the field. I want to be ready to rub liniment on their bruises and get them something to eat. The game is wonderful, I'm sure. But the moment when my boys step into the house is worth more to me than a whole afternoon of football."

London has about nine thousand milk shops and about the same number of public houses.

JOHNSON WEDS GIRL; PICTURES ARE STOPPED

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, was married this afternoon to Miss Lucille Cameron, the 19-year-old Minneapolis girl who recently appeared as a witness against him before the federal grand jury which returned indictments charging him with violations of the Mann act.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Johnson's aged mother on the south side, in the presence of a few persons including several newspaper reporters.

The girl wore a tailor-made suit of Shepherd plaid and a large black picture hat with purple plumes. Johnson had a suit of the same material especially made for the occasion.

A curious crowd of nearly a thousand men and women gathered outside the house and a squad of police was kept busy maintaining order.

The plan of having a moving picture film made of the wedding ceremony for which Johnson was to have received $5,000 was abandoned at the last moment because Chief of Police McWeney prohibited it. A woman newspaper writer was ordered from the house before the ceremony because she offended Johnson by asking too many questions.

After the wedding an elaborate chicken dinner was served the guests, a large wedding cake and numerous floral pieces being features of the table decorations.

Johnson and his bride have planned to leave tomorrow for a honeymoon trip.

When Johnson first made his application for a license, Miss Cameron was not with him and the clerk declined to issue the permit unless she was present to swear to her age.

Johnson then appealed to Robert M. Switzer, county clerk, who overruled the clerk, and Johnson went away grinning with the document safely stored in his pocket.

Johnson explained to the county clerk that the records in court show that the Cameron girl is over 18 years. Johnson gave his own age as 34 years.

The chief of police declared he would try to prevent the exhibition of the proposed moving pictures of the wedding of the couple.

"The affair is against public policy and morals," he said.

BOUT CALLED OFF—TO HOLD ATHLETIC FEST

Living on official objection, the scheduled bout between Young Tillman and Jimmy Mack, local welterweights, which was to have occurred tomorrow night, has been called off and an athletic festival substituted. The event was to have been staged at Myers athletic academy and in its place there will be all kinds of indoor sports, wrestling, bag punching, exhibitions of physical culture and the like. Jimmy Mack has agreed to throw three men in an hour, and there will be a number of mat exhibitions.

HOPPE BEATS SI OSSON

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—George Slosson, who last night defeated Yamada, the Japanese expert, tonight was defeated by Willie Hoppe in the second game of the 18.2 balk line billiard tournament here by 400 to 231. Hoppe had an average of 33.1-3 for the game. His high run was 56. Slosson made an average of 19.1-4 and had a high run of 70.

WALTERS BEATS PIERSON

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 3.—Sailor Billy Walters of Chicago, was given the decision tonight in the fifteenth round of a welterweight fight with Charlie Pierson of Denver. There was a great deal of fighting and the contest was lively throughout. Walters has been matched with "Wildcat" Ferns for a fight here at a date to be set.

With the purchase of Roland Barrows from the Chicago White Sox, Rochester expects its outfield next year to be Barrows, Zinn and Garth, Manager Ganzel having assurance that Zinn, who talked on the transfer from the Yankees, has repented of his notion to quit the game. With Anderson at first and Simmons at second, the infield team is practically complete, though Ganzel still expects an infielder from the Yankees.

PROPOSE SIOLOGY

TO CONVERT CHINESE

BOSTON, Dec. 3.—Religion which he believes will convert the Chinese was explained to Unitarian ministers by Dr. Charles A. Eliot, president of Harvard, at a meeting in Channing hall today.

"To work along social lines is necessary," he said. "I do not believe in hell, or as the Baptists are now calling it, the 'underworld'."

"You can't go to these Chinese or Japanese with your doctrines that are mere traditions. Take the doctrine of justification by faith, or the atonement, or the doctrine of sin, etc. These are not acceptable to the Chinese or Japanese minds. They find more in Confucianism or Buddhism than in this teaching, but tell the heathen Chinese that you believe in good works and that you do not accept the inferiority of woman and he then listens to you."

INSIST ON MUNYON'S Paw Paw Pills FOR Constipation

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike all other laxative or cathartic. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not scour they do not gripe; they do not weaken; but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and bowels. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverish it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no calomel, no dope, they are soothing, healing and stimulating. They school the bowels to act without physic. Price 25 cents. All druggists.

Abingdon, Va.—Mrs. Jennie McCall, of this place, says, "I had been troubled with female complaints for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been almost confined to the house for a long time. I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardui is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardui has helped others. Why not you? Try it. Your druggist sells it in $1 bottles.

TASTE, SMELL AND HEARING RESTORED

A Simple Remedy Soon Ends
Catarrh Miserias

The thousands who suffer the miseries of colds and catarrh and claim they have never found a cure can get instant relief by simply anointing the nostrils with Ely's Cream Balm.

Unlike internal medicines which up-raise the stomach, or strong snuffs which only irritate the trouble, this cleansing, healing, anesthetic balm instantly reaches the seat of the trouble, stops the nasty discharge, clears the nose, head and throat, and brings back the sense of taste, smell and improves the hearing. More than this, it strengthens the weakened and diseased tissues, thus protecting you against a return of the trouble. This remedy will cure a cold in a day, and prevent its becoming chronic or resulting in catarrh.

Nasal catarrh is an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and cannot be reached by mixtures taken into the stomach, nor can it be cured by snuffs and powders which only cause additional irritation. Don't waste time on them. Get a 50-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and after using it for a day you will wish you had tried it sooner.

Mothers should give the children Ely's Cream Balm for colds and croup. It is perfectly harmless, and pleasant to take. Agents, Robinson Drug Co.

"Rescue Work" will be the subjects for discussion. Ensign Reno and others of the Salvation army will speak and sing. Donations for the year Christmas box for the Cottage home in Denver may be brought to the meeting. All members and friends are urged to attend.

A regular convention of Colorado Springs lodge No. 34, K. P., for work in the third rank, will be held at 7 o'clock this evening. Afterward a banquet will be served at the Alamo hotel. All visiting knights are invited.

A meeting of the Columbian Embroidery club will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Gilles, 824 North Hancock street.

A meeting of Section 1 of the First Methodist church will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. G. Derr, 1128 North Nevada avenue. A full attendance is desired.

A meeting of Helen Hunt district, Court of Honor No. 1169, will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening in W. O. W. hall, on East Bijou street. All members are requested to be present. Visiting members are always welcome.

At a regular meeting of Centennial chapter, O. E. S., at Masonic temple, at 7:30 o'clock this evening, officers will be elected.

A meeting of Hermione temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, will be held in K. P. hall at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. All members are requested to be present, as there will be election of officers.

At a meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Christian church, last Sunday, a men's Bible class was organized with J. F. Stankard as president and Park Stary as teacher. The class will meet every Sunday morning at 8:45 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all men who are not identified with any other Bible school to meet with it.

The Equitable Fraternal assembly last night elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Mrs. J. E. Cain, president; Mrs. Corn Scott, vice president; H. K. Wing, secretary; G. C. Wing, treasurer; E. A. Schlegel, warden; Mrs. M. Mason, advisor; Sam Kaufman, inside guard; A. M. Kooker, A. W. Moore, trustees.

Colorado Springs camp No. 7226, Modern Women's temple, will hold a regular meeting in Woodman hall tonight, and will elect officers for the next year. Members of Colorado City camp especially are invited to attend and join in the social entertainment.

The Parent-Teacher association of the Cheyenne school will meet at the school at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon. Miss Kleinrich will tell of her experiences while traveling in Europe, and every member will tell a joke and bring

Only One Camp Open to the Voter Who Is a Real Progressive

By George Ade

Why not be a charter member? Are you still clinging to the belief that the old parties will regenerate themselves over night?

Can any party compel crooked bosses to walk the plank, when the bosses themselves are in command of the ship?

Is the Democratic party progressive? A clear majority of delegates stood out against the nomination of Wilson after day and only yielded because they feared that Bryan and his five hundred stubborn adherents would secede and join the new party. Do the state bosses, who controlled a majority of the votes at Baltimore, like Wilson any better than they did last June? Can he count on their loyal support when he attacks the big interests which they are allied?

Is he so much stronger than Cleveland that he can unite a house absolutely divided against itself? Look at the Republican outfit. The whole campaign organization in the hands of a minority faction repudiated at the polls, but still claiming party dictatorship by mere force of habit. Still doing the ostrich act—shutting their eyes to the obvious and denying the existence of the self-evident. Still playing old-fashioned politics or at least going through the motions of it, some sewing, as this meeting will be a "thumbs party."

The board of managers of the Day Nursery will meet at 10 o'clock this morning at 822 South Tejon street.

The Nurses Registry association will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The local board of managers of Bethel hospital will meet in the hospital parlors at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

At an election held last night, George Dickey was elected commander of post No. 22, C. A. H. The other officers elected were: C. W. Hesser, senior vice commander; John Murphy, junior vice commander; Fred Macke, sergeant; S. R. Cone, officer of the day; S. H. Moss, chaplain; L. H. Burt, quartermaster, and W. W. Emery, officer of the guard.

Zabud council No. 4, R. and S. M., elected officers for the ensuing year at a meeting held last night, at Masonic temple, as follows: Donald Kennedy, Jr., T. M.; Ralph W. Wardwell, D. M.; Joseph G. Derr, P. C. W.; Edward J. Eaton, treasurer; E. S. Cohen, recorder; Jay C. Johnson, C. of the G.; R. W. Lucy, C. of the C.; F. W. Tompkins, steward; and Dr. W. A. Campbell, sentinel. The newly elected officers were installed at the meeting last night.

Sam Schepps Can't Go to Long Beach

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 2.—The police of Long Beach announced today that steps would be taken to discourage or to prohibit, if possible, the coming of Sam Schepps, a notorious New York gangster, to that city where his sister, Mrs. H. Levy, resides. Mrs. Levy stated that she has not heard from her brother since the conclusion of the trial although it was reported that Schepps was on his way to her home. The police asserted today they had proof that the shooting and robbing of Edward W. Dwyer, a chauffeur yesterday, was the work of gangsters recently arrived from the east. A rigid investigation has been ordered.

EMPLOYES PUEBLO STORE ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY

PUEBLO, Dec. 3.—Wholesale thefts extending over a period of six years were disclosed this afternoon when employees of the Star Grocery & Market company were arrested on complaint of the company. Manager Schwartz claims the losses will reach $12,000. Two employees, Max Gordon and Charles Philbert, are under arrest and four others may be arrested later. The four confessed to connection with the thefts. Articles were taken from the store and sold, the money being kept by the employees. It is also charged that several of the employees stole all the supplies needed in their homes for the last several years.

A Staple Medicine For All Families

From Infancy to Old Age a Reliable Family Laxative is Most Needed.

Try This One.

It is inconceivable in this day of general intelligence that any family would be without a simple remedy for the minor ills of life, for often by giving such a remedy in time a serious disease can be frustrated and a life saved.

For example, if at the first sign of a cold a simple laxative-remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin were given the beginning of a serious lung affection or of a typhoid fever might be avoided. And also in headaches, nervousness, etc., a small dose of this remedy would relieve the congestion and replace distress with comfort. Mothers give it to tiny infants and little children, and grown people take it with equally good effect.

Thousands of good American homes are never without it, among them the homes of Mrs. V. M. Hull, Wyacena, Wis., and Mrs. Ivory Embert, Mantua, Minn., who say they would soon be without the necessities as without Syrup Pepsin. It saves the health of the family and it saves doctors' bills. It is a guaranteed cure for any form of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, gas on stomach, headache, drowsiness after eating, etc. Have no hesitancy about giving it to any member of the family, however young or old, for it contains nothing injurious to the youngest person.

A bottle can be obtained at any nearby drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is more economical and is bought by those who have already convinced themselves of its merits. Syrup Pepsin users learn to discard pills, salts, cathartics and purgatives generally as they are too great a shock to any average system.

If no member of your family ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postcard will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 411 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Only One Camp Open to the Voter Who Is a Real Progressive

By George Ade

Why not be a charter member? Are you still clinging to the belief that the old parties will regenerate themselves over night?

Can any party compel crooked bosses to walk the plank, when the bosses themselves are in command of the ship?

Is the Democratic party progressive? A clear majority of delegates stood out against the nomination of Wilson after day and only yielded because they feared that Bryan and his five hundred stubborn adherents would secede and join the new party. Do the state bosses, who controlled a majority of the votes at Baltimore, like Wilson any better than they did last June? Can he count on their loyal support when he attacks the big interests which they are allied?

Is he so much stronger than Cleveland that he can unite a house absolutely divided against itself? Look at the Republican outfit. The whole campaign organization in the hands of a minority faction repudiated at the polls, but still claiming party dictatorship by mere force of habit. Still doing the ostrich act—shutting their eyes to the obvious and denying the existence of the self-evident. Still playing old-fashioned politics or at least going through the motions of it,

INSIST ON MUNYON'S Paw Paw Pills FOR Constipation

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike all other laxative or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not scour the bowels, grip, or weaken, but they do start the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken, they enrich the blood instead of impoverish it, they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no calomel, no dope, they are soothing, healing and stimulating. They soothe the bowels to act without physic. Price 50 cents. All druggists.

TASTE, SMELL AND HEARING RESTORED

A Simple Remedy Soon Ends Catarrh Miseries

The thousands who suffer the miseries of colds and catarrh and claim they have never found a cure can get instant relief by simply anointing the nostrils with Ely's Cream Balm.

Unlike internal medicines which upset the stomach, or strong snuffs which only aggravate the trouble this cleansing, healing, antiseptic Balm instantly reaches the seat of the trouble. It stops the nasty discharge, clears the nose, head and throat, and brings back the sense of taste, smell and improves the hearing. More than this it strengthens the weakened and diseased tissues, thus protecting you against a return of the trouble. This remedy will cure a cold in a day, and prevent its becoming chronic or resulting in catarrh.

Nasal catarrh is an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages and cannot be reached by mixtures taken into the stomach nor can it be cured by snuffs and powders which only cause additional irritation. Don't waste time on them. Get a 50-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and after using it for a day you will wish you had tried it sooner.

Mothers should give the children Ely's Cream Balm for colds and croup. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to take. Agents, Robinson Drug Co.

Rescue Work will be the subjects for discussion. Ensign Reno and others of the Salvation army will speak and sing. Donations for the yearly Christmas box for the Cottage home in Denver may be brought to the meeting. All members and friends are urged to attend.

A regular convention of Colorado Springs lodge No. 34 K. P. for work in the third rank will be held at 7 o'clock this evening. Afterward a banquet will be served at the Alamo hotel. All visiting knights are invited.

A meeting of the Columbine Embroidery club will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Gilles 224 North Hancock street.

A meeting of Section 1 of the First Methodist church will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. G. Dern 1128 North Nevada avenue. A full attendance is desired.

A meeting of Helen Hunt district court of Honor No. 119 will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening in W. O. W. hall on East Bijou street. All members are requested to be present. Visiting members are always welcome.

At a regular meeting of Centennial chapter O. E. S. at Masonic temple at 7:30 o'clock this evening officers will be elected.

A meeting of Hermonie temple No. 1 Pythian Sisters will be held in K. P. hall at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. All members are requested to be present as there will be election of officers.

At a meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Christian church, last Sunday a men's Bible class was organized with J. R. Stankard as president and Mark Stankard as teacher. The class will meet every Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all men who are not identified with any other Bible school to meet with it.

The Equitable Fraternal assembly last night elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Mrs. J. E. Cain president, Mrs. Cora Scott vice president, H. K. Wing secretary, G. C. Wing treasurer, E. A. Schlegel warden, Mrs. M. Mason, advisor, Sam Kaufman inside guard, A. M. Koonen A. W. Moore trustees.

Colorado Springs camp No. 7226 Modern Woodmen of America, will hold a regular meeting in Woodman hall tonight and will elect officers for the next year. Members of Colorado City camp especially are invited to attend and join in the social entertainment.

The Parent Teacher association of the Cheyenne school will meet at the school at 8:15 o'clock this afternoon. Miss Kleinlich will tell of her experiences while traveling in Europe, and every member will tell a joke and bring

BE A CHARTER MEMBER

Only One Camp Open to the Voter Who Is a Real Progressive
By George Ade

Why not be a charter member?
Are you still clinging to the belief that the old parties will regenerate themselves over night?
Can any party compel crooked bosses to walk the plank, when the bosses themselves are in command of the ship?
Is the Democratic party progressive? A clear majority of delegates stood out against the nomination of Wilson day after day and only yielded because they feared that Bryan and his five hundred stubborn adherents would secede and join the new party. Do the state bosses, who controlled a majority of the votes at Baltimore, like Wilson any better than they did last June? Can he count on their legal support when he attacks the big interests with which they are allied? Is he so much stronger than Cleveland that he can unite a house absolutely divided against itself? Look at the Republican outfit. The whole campaign organization in the hands of a minority faction repudiated at the polls but still claiming party dictatorship by mere force of habit. Still doing the strictest and shunning the existence of the self-evident. Still playing old-fashioned politics or at least going through the motions of it, while the voters they once used as pawns in the game have simply moved away and left them to their own devices.

There is only one camp open to the voter who is a real progressive. Therefore, be a charter member.

A good many thousands who are still groping in the suburbs will come out into the sunlight and join us two or four years from now, but they will not stand quite as high in the councils as the charter members.

The Fremont Republican was always a little more proud of his record than the Lincoln Republican.

Around the bivouac fire, the soldier who enlisted at the first call for volunteers is more respected than the fellow who waited to be drafted.

If you are in sympathy with the new demand for government by the people and a square deal all around, you will have to line up with the Progressive party sooner or later.

Why not be a charter member?

Are you in favor of burning down a house in order to get rid of the rats?

This question was propounded by a stand-patter the other day. There is the answer. If the rats take charge some sewing, as this meeting will be a 'timble party.'

The board of managers of the Day Nursery will meet at 10 o'clock this morning at 823 South Tejon street.

The Nurses Registry association will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The local board of managers of Bethel hospital will meet in the hospital parlors at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

At an election held last night George Dickey was elected commander of post No. 25 G. A. R. The other officers elected were: C. W. Hesser senior vice commander, John Murphy, junior vice commander, Fred Macke, sergeant, S. R. Cond, officer of the day, S. H. Moss, chaplain, I. H. Burt, quartermaster, and W. W. Emory, officer of the guard.

Zaidi council No. 8, R and S M. elected officers for the ensuing year at a meeting held last night at Masonic temple as follows: Donald Kennedy, Jr. T. I. M., Ralph W. Wardwell, D. M., Joseph G. Dern, F. C. W., Edward J. Eaton, treasurer, E. S. Cohen recorder, Jay C. Johnson, C. of the G.; R. W. Lucy, C. of the C., F. W. Tompkins, steward, and Dr. W. A. Campbell, sentinel. The newly elected officers were installed at the meeting last night.

Sam Schepps Can't Go to Long Beach

LOS ANGELES, Cal. Dec. 3.—The police of Long Beach announced today that steps would be taken to discourage or to prohibit if possible, the proposed visit of Sam Schepps the New York gangster to that city where his sister Mrs. H. Levy resides. Mrs. Levy stated that she has not heard from her brother since the conclusion of the trial although it was reported that Schepps was on his way to her home. The police asserted today they had proof that the shooting and robbing of Edward W. Denenr a chauffeur yesterday was the work of gunmen recently arrived from the east. A rigid investigation has been ordered.

A Staple Medicine For All Families

From Infancy to Old Age a Reliable Family Laxative is Most Needed Try This One

It is inconceivable in this day of general intelligence that any family would be without a simple remedy for the minor ills of life for from giving such a remedy in time a serious disease can be frustrated and a life saved.

For example if at the first sign of a cold a simple laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin were given the beginning of a serious long affection or of a typhoid fever might be avoided. And also in headaches, nervousness, etc. a small dose of this remedy would relieve the congestion and replace distress with comfort. Mothers give it to their infants and little children and grown people take it with equally good effect.

Thousands of good American homes are never without it among them the homes of Mrs. V. M. Hull, Wacana Wis. and Mrs. Ivory Lumber Munka, Minneapolis. Many who say they could not do without the necessities as without Syrup Pepsin. It saves the health of the family and it saves doctor's bills. It is a guaranteed cure for any form of stomach, liver, and bowel trouble, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, gas on stomach, headache, drowsiness, after eating, etc. Have no hesitancy about giving it to any member of the family, however young or old for it contains nothing injurious to the youngest person.

A bottle can be obtained at any nearby drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is more economical and is bought by those who have already convinced themselves of its merits. Syrup Pepsin learns to dislodge pills, salts, cathartics and purgatives generally as they are too great a shock to any average system.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist send your address in postal will do to Dr. W. B. Caldwell at Washington St. Monticello Ill. and a free sample bottle will be mailed to you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.
